

PULLMAN PORTER IS SHOT

FIGHT MAY END IN DEATH

Carter Lewis Pulls Revolver From His Pocket and Fires at C. S. Tillman

Quarrel Over Alleged Attention Paid Wife Said to Be Cause of Row

Carter Lewis, a Pullman company employe, shot and probably fatally wounded C. S. Tillman, another Pullman employe, in front of the company's commissary at the foot of Wood street about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Both men are colored.

Lewis quarreled with Tillman over the attentions that the latter was paying to his wife, and this is what led to the shooting. Lewis fired two shots, both of the bullets taking effect. One entered the brain at the bridge of the nose and the other the pit of the stomach.

Lewis was arrested and Tillman was taken to the Receiving hospital, where the surgeons stated after an examination that his recovery was impossible.

Lewis was locked up at the city prison. The wounded man is a porter and has been running out of Oakland on Southern Pacific trains for several years. He resides at 1816 Adeline street and is 46 years old.

Carter Lewis called on Captain Peterson this morning and asked permission to carry a weapon as he believed his life was in danger. When the two men met this afternoon, after a few words were passed, Lewis commenced to fire at Tillman.

The shooting took place in a dining car standing in the Southern Pacific yards at the foot of Wood street. After the shooting Lewis ran to a saloon at 801 Willow street, threw his weapon on the bar and stood there talking when Brakeman Dunn and a few workers took him into custody and turned him over to Captain Petersen and Inspector Beck.

He was taken with his victim in the patrol wagon. On the way to the hospital he sat in the end of the wagon and held his victim's head in his lap. He did not seem to realize the seriousness of what he had done. The quarrel between the two has been of long standing. Lewis had spoken to Patrolman Wood several days ago of the matter and the officer referred him to Captain of Detectives Petersen.

Banker Found Dead on Graves of Dead Wives

REDDING, Cal., April 6.—E. L. Bailey, vice-president of the Bank of Northern California, of this city, was found dead in a cemetery last night, lying across the graves of his two dead wives, with a bullet hole in his head and an empty chambered revolver by his side. The following note was found by his side: "I am weary and worn, and physically and mentally unable to bear this load." Bailey had been ill for weeks and was over-worked on account of a large portion of the business of the Bank of Northern California, which he had failed, having gone to the Bank of Northern California. It is believed that the extra strain broke Bailey's health. He was 61 years old and was living with his third wife. When he did not return for supper his wife became alarmed, and a search resulted in the finding of the body. The bank with which Bailey was connected is known to be sound.

Addled Eggs and Deformed Chicks Result of Explosion

KENOSHA, Wis., April 6.—Kenosha is going to have a crop of twisted and deformed chickens this year and it is said to be due to the recent explosion at the powder mills at Pleasant Prairie. Chickens hatched in the incubators since the explosion are singularly deformed. More than 98 per cent have twisted legs, broken wings and similar ailments, and while many of them are still living, it is thought that the loss will be unusually large.

'PRIVATE SCHOOLS A PERIL'—WHEELER

Exclusive Education Not Good, Says Lecturer

Boys Should Have Men Teachers, Declares U. C. President

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 6.—Private schools for the rich are "the peril of America," declared President Benjamin Ide Wheeler in his address yesterday on "The High School." He regarded as most unfortunate the tendency of the wealthy to force their children to associate only with those of the same social standing.

Dr. Wheeler also declared that boys of the high school age should have men teachers and that the pay for these teachers should be increased. Owing to the present small remuneration "little men" turn their backs on the profession, he said.

The lecture was one of several which Dr. Wheeler is delivering on "Education and Democracy." His concluding lectures will be on "The Press," April 12, and on "The Church," April 19.

"The high school," said Dr. Wheeler yesterday, "has grown up like Topsy, spontaneously, and represents American democracy. It is closer to the common people than the college or the university, and in our western country is considered an index to the general intelligence and prosperity of a town. It is frequently made an adjunct to a real estate boom, making the town a good place in which to settle for the education of children. Each high school has thus an individual reputation to sustain."

"The American parent is anxious his child should not have to suffer from mediocrity. There is also an intense though unformulated aversion to any crystallization of local population into castes. The high school offers the children of every level a chance to obtain the top. It is a ladder having its foot in the gutter, its top in the university."

GROWTH OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

"Between 1890 and 1908 the number of children in American high schools trebled. In 1890 the total was 567,000 or 6 to every 1000 of the population. In 1908 the number was 958,000, or 11 in every 1000. The number of students in private schools was increasing to 1895, but was less in 1908 than in 1890. In 1890 65 per cent of the whole number was in public secondary schools; in 1908, 89 per cent. The percentage in private schools had decreased from 32 per cent to 10 1/2."

"The public high school is more and more sending its pupils forward to the college and university. In 1908, 32 per cent prepared to enter colleges, an increased percentage over earlier years. At the same time private school was sending a less percentage of its students to college than formerly."

Dr. Wheeler treated of the history of secondary schools, occupying the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades in the present public school system, and described the first Latin grammar school which dominated the field of secondary education between 1635 and the Revolutionary war; the academy, which flourished best between 1783 and 1861, and the early part of the eighteenth century, and led the way to the American revolution school was described as public, though semi-aristocratic; the academy as private though popular, maintained by the denominations as a result of the great religious awakening through the preaching of Jonathan Edwards and others in the early part of the eighteenth century.

SEEDS OF DEMOCRACY.

"This revival," said Dr. Wheeler, "spread the seeds of a new democracy and led the way to the American revolution. More than anything else, the revolution grew out of the great awakening. The high school by contrast with these two earlier and yet existent types was described as both public and democratic, an outright American product, representing the new American democracy."

"The high school was the creation of the community. The high school and college adjusted themselves to one another, the college and university accepted."

TWO HURT IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Mrs. T. B. Potter and Daughter Suffer in Accident

While Mrs. T. B. Potter of 1118 San Antonio avenue, Alameda, and her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Johnson, living at 1114 Bay street in the Encinal city, were rushing in their automobile to catch the Creek Route ferryboat to San Francisco this afternoon, about 2 o'clock, their machine collided with the Telegraph avenue electric car at Third street and Broadway.

The auto was badly wrecked and both women thrown violently to the pavement. Mrs. Potter sustained abrasions of the left side of the body, several scalp wounds and bruises on the legs, while, aside from a severe shaking up, and a few minor bruises, Mrs. Johnson escaped unhurt.

Mrs. Potter, accompanied by her daughter, was taken to the Receiving hospital, where her injuries were dressed and was then removed to the Alameda Sanitarium.

Newspaper Men Are Angels in Chrysalis

Pastor Says They Are First Aids to Clergy and Help to Fill Churches.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 6.—"Keep in touch with the newspapermen" is the advice of the Rev. C. F. Reiser, a New York pastor, who is the chief speaker at the New England conference of Methodist churches, in session here this week. "It is a great mistake for clergymen to keep aloof from newspapermen and refuse to be interviewed," said Dr. Reiser. "Everybody reads the newspaper, and if you want to get your interests before the public you must advertise in this important agency. They will always treat you fairly if you give them reason for doing so. I never could get a congregation in my New York church did I not get the newspapers on my side."

CHICAGO, April 6.—Parisian gowns valued at $10,000 were stolen from Grand Duke Simeon M. Romanoff, who claims to be a relative of the Czar of Russia, in a daylight robbery.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 6.—By a vote of 35 to 7, the Senate passed today Senator Charles C. Board of Trade bill, which legalizes trading in futures.

LA FOLLETTE RENEWS FIRE ON LORIMER

Demands That Senate Again Investigate Accused Official.

Resolution Carries With it the Names of Proposed Trial Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator La Follette introduced today a resolution providing for another investigation of the Senator Lorimer case. It names as the committee of investigation Works of California, Townsend of Michigan, McLean of Connecticut, Kern of Indiana and Pomeroy of Ohio. No action was taken as La Follette intends to speak upon the resolution another day.

The resolution recites the action of the Senate last session, when a motion to declare the seat of Senator Lorimer vacant because of alleged corruption of the Illinois Legislature which elected him, failed of the necessary number of votes. The resolution recites:

It appears from the published reports of the proceedings of the said Illinois State Senate committee that witnesses who were not called and sworn by the committee of this Senate appointed to investigate said charges have appeared before the said committee of the Illinois State Senate and on being interrogated have given important material testimony tending to prove that $100,000 was corruptly expended to secure the election of Wm. Lorimer to the U. S. Senate.

After naming the special committee which it is proposed to have appointed to conduct a new inquiry, the resolution provides for meetings of the committee during sessions of the Senate and gives to it a full authority to subpoena persons and send for papers and to administer oaths.

TO FIGHT RESOLUTION.

It is expected the adoption of the resolution will be opposed by Senators who voted for Lorimer last session, and that an effort will be made to have the resolution referred to the committee on privileges and elections, of which William of Vermont will be the new chairman. The Vermont Senator is a Lorimer man.

Never before in the history of the Senate has an individual member sought to name a committee of investigation touching on the right of a senator to retain his seat, or for any other matter. When special committees have been named for any purpose the personnel has been selected by the Vice-President or the Senate itself.

All of the men named by the La Follette resolution begin their terms in the Senate with the convening of the presidential inauguration session. It is understood they were selected at a conference of progressive Senators.

MUST ACT, SAYS STONE.

Stone of Missouri made the prediction at the White House today that the Senate would be compelled to investigate for the second time the charges of bribery in Lorimer's election. Stone believes a new committee will be appointed to prosecute the investigation.

"The testimony of the Legislature in Springfield is so ugly," said Stone, "that it seems to me Congress must take notice of it and if I am not mistaken, the Senate will take some action. The probabilities of the situation might influence the Senate to wait until the Illinois investigation is finished. Testimony introduced in Springfield undoubtedly would be brought officially to the attention of the Senate."

MRS. OLIVER GOES ON STAGE, IS RUMOR

MRS. ROLAND OLIVER, who has taken up a career before the footlights.

SOCIETY MATRON SAID TO HAVE REALIZED AMBITION

With a love for the stage that would not be downed, despite the objections of family connections and social acquaintances, Mrs. Roland Oliver, formerly the ward of F. M. Smith, millionaire, has at last realized her ambition, according to a letter received by an intimate friend of the Smith family in Oakland yesterday.

Although Mrs. Oliver's whereabouts is unknown, save to her husband and to Miss Grace Wishaar, artist, who accompanied the former social leader on a tour of the world a year ago, she is, according to the letter, appearing incognito on the stage of one of the big European cities. Miss Wishaar refuses to discuss her friend's stage achievements, nor will she make known her whereabouts.

FRIENDS MAKE PREDICTIONS.

At the time Mrs. Oliver left on her tour of the world, intimate friends predicted, though only in whispers, that she would never return to her husband nor her Monte Vista home. Although it was reported that she expected her husband to apply for a divorce, he has not done so.

As Marion Smith, Mrs. Oliver, before her marriage four years ago to Roland Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Letts Oliver, was one of Oakland's most accomplished debutantes. Even then she had dreams of a stage career, but her desires were frowned upon by her intimates and forbidden by her family.

Now, under an assumed name, the beautiful Oakland society woman is trying her ability as an actress, it is said.

STUDIES FOR STAGE.

During the five months that Mrs. Oliver and Miss Wishaar lived in Paris, after traveling through the Orient and Mediterranean countries, the young society matron studied diligently for a stage career.

That she has talent has long been recognized.

Fine of $100 Tacked to 'Lil Artha's' Jail Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—"I am forced to do to Mr. Johnson what he did to Jeffrey," said Superior Judge Cabaniss this morning in affirming the decision of Acting Police Judge Conlan, who found the colored fighter guilty of the one in which Johnson pleaded guilty and was sentenced to twenty-five days in the county jail by Judge Treadwell, which term he is now serving. The jury, was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $100. Attorney Michaels argued at length to obtain a reversal but was unsuccessful, and now the pugilist must pay a fine in addition to his sentence.

Big Liner Runs Aground With 1720 Persons Aboard

NEW YORK, April 6.—The steamer Princess Irene of the North German Lloyd line ran ashore early today off the Lone Hill station, ten miles east of Fire Island. The lifting fog be-between 7 and 8 o'clock disclosed the grounded liner to the life savers, who put out to see if she needed assistance. The big vessel was in no apparent danger.

On board the Princess Irene were 235 cabin passengers and 1435 in the steerage, all from Naples, Genoa, Palermo and Gibraltar.

By a wireless message Captain Van Letten-Petersen assured the company here that the vessel was not in a dangerous position and that he expected between 10 a. m. and noon. He said he had passed the Fire Island light when a heavy fog came in. The navigating officer believed he was standing several miles off the Long Island shore and heading for Sandy Hook, when the Irene pushed herself slowly on the sandy reef.

PUBLISHER ENDS HIS LIFE

Craige Lippincott Found Dead From Effects of Bullet Wound

Accident, Declares His Son, but Coroner Reports Case as Suicide

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Craige Lippincott, head of the publishing house of J. B. Lippincott Company and prominent in the financial and social life of the city, shot and killed himself early today in his magnificent home, 215 West Rittenhouse Square.

The cause that led Lippincott to end his life is not definitely known. An authorized statement given out by an officer of the publishing company states that he killed himself during a period of temporary aberration.

The tragic death of Mr. Lippincott caused a sensation. There was a strong disposition on the part of the relatives and friends to doubt that he had died designedly, his son, Jay B. Lippincott, going so far as to make a sworn statement giving it as his opinion that his father had died by accident. It is declared that matter Mrs. Lippincott, the widow, who was in an adjoining room, nor the son, who was on the floor above, heard the fatal shot.

TRAGEDY IN OPERA.

Lippincott, who was 63 years of age, was found dead by his valet. There was a bullet wound in the right temple. So far as can be learned, Lippincott attended last night in good spirits. He attended the performance of the opera "Quo Vadis."

In this opera the curtain goes down on scene in which "Petronius declares that he is tired of life and then, after a beautiful love scene with Eurice, the slave girl, he dies in each other's arms."

The deputy coroner, Charles McKeever, said that Lippincott died some time between 7 and 8 o'clock this morning. The first information the coroner had of a death in the Lippincott residence was at 9:30 o'clock when some one called on the telephone and said there had been a suicide at 215 West Rittenhouse Square and asked that a deputy be sent to the house at once.

McKeever was sent and remained in the house some time. There he learned that the deceased was Craige Lippincott, a well-known publisher. The coroner had been notified, and it is understood that it was he who notified the coroner's office.

No information could be obtained from the house and the first report to reach the coroner's office as to the identity of the dead person was that it was a mail servant and the early editions of the afternoon papers printed a story to this effect.

Oscar Stewart, the valet, McKeever said, found Lippincott when he went to shave him at 8 o'clock. He was lying half dressed on the floor. There was a bullet wound in his right temple and near him lay a revolver.

All the members of the Lippincott family in the city were notified of the death of Craige Lippincott. Dr. Stricker, Craige's physician, said: "I saw Mr. Lippincott only a few days ago and he seemed to be in good spirits."

CREATES SENSATION.

Lippincott's death caused a sensation in financial and social circles and the circumstances under which he was found dead have greatly shocked his relatives and friends.

Lippincott was born near this city on November 4, 1846, and was the son of Joshua Hallinger. Lippincott and his wife, Mrs. Craige Lippincott, were married in 1871. He was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and in 1868 he entered the publishing house of J. B. Lippincott & Co., which has been the J. B. Lippincott Company since 1885.

In 1871 he married Miss Sallie E. Bucknill of this city. In 1885 Lippincott succeeded his father as president of the publishing company. He was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, and of the Art Union League, Rittenhouse and Racquet Clubs of this city.

Lippincott survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Samuel K. Reeves, son, Jay B. Lippincott, and a brother, J. Bertram Lippincott.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS FOR RICH CALLED A MENACE

President Wheeler Objects to Exclusive Education for Wealthy.

BUILT UP SCHOOLS.

"The University of California practically built up the high schools in this state, caused them to be what they are. The college recognizes more and more the work of the high schools as leading to college. The inclination among colleges is to make it possible for any student who has done good work in the high school to enter some department of the college.

"Entering high school at the average age of 14 is unfortunate. It postpones the beginning of the study of foreign languages at 14 or 15 when it is too late to begin."

The consequence of putting the high school period so late, according to President Wheeler, is that the last two grades of the common schools are made up of airy repetitions and "stuffed with sawdust." In these grades should be introduced industrial education and the study of languages.

MEN NEEDED AS TEACHERS.

"A boy at the high school age needs to be under the instruction of men. The percentage of men teachers in the high schools fell from 50 per cent in 1900 to 47 per cent in 1908. There is something wrong; we have not quite found out what. The best and most ambitious young men do not choose education as a profession. One reason is found in the basis of remuneration. American sentiment has seemed to demand that women should have like pay for the same work as men. The majority of teachers in the secondary schools should be men. This can not be secured without paying them more."

"Between 1900 and 1907 there was an increase of 25 per cent in the pay of men, of 13 per cent in the pay of women. In 1909 the average monthly salary received by men teaching was $46.50, by women $33. The discrepancy will have to be much greater, the prizes for success being so much greater in the engineering and other professions that lure men out of their backs on the school. The supply of women is far better both in quantity and quality, but the average service of the woman is brief, five years, in order to marry. In boom times when the young men are making money fast and feel better able to support a wife, three and a half years is the average life of the American woman school teacher."

President Wheeler discussed the fashion of many moneyed people of sending their children to private schools where they meet only children of the same class; a tendency and practice which he

VISITING JURISTS PLEASED WITH OAKLAND

Judges From All Over the State Like to Sit in Alameda County.

VACATION DATES TO BE FIXED ON JUNE 1

Arrangements Made to Keep the Auxiliary Department Running.

Judges throughout the state, who have been invited from time to time by the bench of the Superior Court of Alameda county to come here and help conduct litigation, have invariably accepted and expressed their deep pleasure for the opportunity afforded them to visit Oakland. This statement is made on the authority of Judge William H. Wastie, who said today that it was a source of gratification to him and his colleagues to know that outside jurists are so generally kindly disposed toward the Superior Court of Alameda county and the members of the bar.

"It is a fact worthy of comment," said Judge Wastie, "that outside judges hold the bench and bar of this county in high esteem and are always glad to come to Oakland whenever invited to sit. Those who have favored us with their co-operation in the past have fitted in nicely with both the members of the bench and the attorneys and are always glad to return. They have never failed to enjoy their sojourn among us and give us a good name for hospitality elsewhere throughout the state. This has done us incalculable good as a court and I do not think it would be bragado to say that it has been the means of adding to the reputation of Oakland in other parts of the state for its hospitality to strangers."

Among the jurists who have done duty here during the last few months are Judge William F. Finch of Glen county, Judge W. A. Conley of Madera county, Judge Stanley A. Smith of Sierra county and Judge James D. Murphy of Mono county. The last named jurist is at present sitting for Judge Everett J. Brown, who is presiding over the criminal department during the indisposition of Judge William S. Wells.

Since the opening of the auxiliary department of the Superior Court the demand for a visiting jurist has been constant and the members of the bench to date completed arrangements whereby this department will be in almost continuous session after next Tuesday until June 1. Judge N. A. Hawkins of Yolo county will preside for a week, beginning next Tuesday, and he will be followed by Judge Morton S. Sayre of Lake county, who will sit until May 3, when Judge J. E. Prewett of Auburn county will remove him and preside until June 1. On that date the local judges will inaugurate their annual summer vacations.

regarded as most unfortunate, though in New York City he said conditions growing out of the great influx of foreigners and the need of adapting the public schools to children of foreign born parentage made it almost impossible to send children of American parentage to the public school.

"It is the peril of America," declared President Wheeler with great seriousness, "that children of the rich are sent to private schools. It is a misfortune that children of one class should be entrenched in their allegiance to that class by being sent to school where only children of the same social group are found."

PLAN TO OBSERVE STATE ARBOR DAY

Native Daughters Ask Permission to Plant Tree in Park.

Permission to plant a tree and native California wild flowers in one of Oakland's parks on Arbor Day was requested by Piedmont Parlor No. 87 of the Native Daughters of the Golden West of the Park Commission at the regular meeting this afternoon. The permit will be given with certain restrictions as to placing of the tree and the kind, to conform with the general park lines.

A request was also laid before the park commissioners by H. D. Cushing of the Oakland Boys' Club, for permission to give a monthly free concert in one of the parks by the boys' band. The commissioners expressed themselves in favor of encouraging the boys' club and it is probable that arrangements will be made for the concerts.

GRAND JURY TO CONTINUE WORK

Rumor That Christopher Ruess' Job Was in Danger Is Denied.

When the grand jury goes into session tomorrow afternoon it will continue its investigation of the management of the county infirmary, inquiring particularly into the conduct of the various departments of the institution. District Attorney Donahue said today that witnesses have been summoned from among the employees of the infirmary. He was unable to state whether or not the probing of the probation office and the Detention Home would be taken up afterward.

Thus far with reference to the latter matter the grand jury has simply been getting data together covering the expenses of the probation office and Detention Home with a view to going into the matter thoroughly. There has been a rumor abroad that the grand jury is after the scalp of Christopher Ruess, probation officer, but the district attorney says today that he did not believe there was anything in that. He did think, however, that by leaping from nothing to about $23,000 in three years the expense of the probation work in Alameda county had grown too rapidly.

Steering of Pacific Liner Disgorges Horde of Then in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The Pacific Mail liner Korea arrived here today from the Orient. Among the steerage passengers were 254 Filipino and Korean laborers shipped here to work in the salmon canneries. These laborers were picked up at Honolulu, where their departure was opposed by the sugar planters, who wanted them to remain on the plantations.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—A wound that has never healed since inflicted by a Southern bullet in the Civil War, probably saved Edward Sinclair of Mountain Grove, Mo., from a term in prison as a counterfeiter yesterday. Sinclair is 73 years old. He pleaded guilty in the federal court to counterfeiting, dies for making nickels and dimes having been found in his house. Judge Robert E. Lewis heard of his wound and that a prison sentence would mean death in prison for Sinclair, he dismissed him with a fine of $5.

NEGRO STUDENT WINS HIGH HONOR

Columbia University Gives Colored Orator Medal for Speech.

NEW YORK, April 6.—For the second time in the history of Columbia university, a negro won the Curtis medal for excellence in public speaking, one of the highest scholastic honors in the gift of the faculty.

This year's victor is George W. Scott whose subject was "Child Slavery." Scott's oration proposed a national law for the suppression of child slavery and the creation of a national children's bureau under the Department of Commerce and Labor.

"I stand here pleading for no race or creed," declared Scott, "but I say this: The nation which forty years ago was able to lift the shackles from 4,000,000 negro slaves, should certainly be able to free 2,500,000 children."

The first colored student to take the Curtis medal was P. K. Simi, the son of a Hottentot chieftain, who was the winner in 1906.

It is a vital necessity that he keep his nervous and muscular system in good condition to withstand the daily wear and tear of life.

Those who are run-down, weakened or nervous should remember that nothing excels Vinol, which is a combination of the medicinal elements of the cod's liver and tonic iron, to strengthen the digestive organs, create an appetite, make new blood and restore strength.

Prof. James Mitchell of Jasper, Ont., says his system was run-down to a critical point from overwork. A friend told him to take Vinol. He did so and is now enjoying perfect health, and he considers Vinol a wonderful tonic. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

SCHOOL BOARD GIVEN SUPPORT

Hayward Chamber of Commerce Sanctions Plan for New Building.

HAYWARD, April 6.—At a meeting of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce last night the members declared unanimously in favor of the proposed bond issue to be called by the members of the high school trustees to the amount of $50,000 for the purpose of acquiring a site and the erection of a first-class high school.

The chamber wish it to be understood by the trustees that they are universally in favor of the action taken by the board in securing a very large tract of land and erecting a school which will be second to none in the county.

The site of the new building has already been chosen by the members of the board but has not been accepted by the residents of the town. A large tract for the purpose of carrying out the study of agriculture proposed, the board desires a large enough piece of land to insure a generous playground.

A committee consisting of H. R. Robinson, P. Wilson, George B. Cannanough, J. V. O'Brien and William Angus was appointed to confer with the members of the board of trustees for the school and explain to them the opinion of the chamber on the proposition.

FERRYBOATS CRASH WITH THOUSANDS ON BOARD

Berkeley and Bay City Collide on Bay Off Goat Island, Throwing Passengers Into Panic

With the weather as clear as a bell, in daylight and slack water, the ferry-boat Bay City crashed into the ferry-boat Berkeley at 6:47 last evening off Goat Island and threw the hundreds of commuters on board the vessel into a small panic. Both boats were under a speed of twelve knots, with Captain William W. Rogers, oldest bay mariner in service, at the wheel of the Bay City, and First Officer Albert Johnson at the wheel of the Berkeley.

One woman passenger, Mrs. Thomas Turner, wife of the former treasurer of the Yosemite Valley Transportation Company, was thrown from her feet on the Berkeley by the impact and swooned from the shock. She was the only person hurt in the collision.

The stem of the Bay City was badly damaged, the rudder being torn off, the apron broken up, the railings broken off and lifeboats thrown down. Taking water, she was hurried to the Southern Pacific shipyards in the Oakland estuary, after disembarking the passengers at the ferry.

A hole four feet by two was torn in the starboard side of the Berkeley amidships, just forward of the toilet, and the steamer exhaust pipes of the main engine were broken by the impact. After a round trip she was ordered to the shipyards and docked at the Peralta street slip, Oakland, for repairs.

The Berkeley left the ferry slip on the Oakland run at 6:41 with a heavy list of passengers, and the Bay City started from the Alameda, narrow-gauge mole about the same time with less than 300 on board. Captain E. A. Jones of the Berkeley had gone below to dinner, leaving First Officer Albert Johnson at the wheel. Johnson's story of the collision is as follows:

"We were six minutes out of the ferry slip and off Goat Island when the Bay City broke into our course, and going at twelve knots, I blew two whistles signaling the Bay City to starboard as is customary, but she kept right on. Then I repeated the two whistles, but it seemed that they had not heard them, and, on seeing this, I sounded the danger whistle. It was off the east end of Goat Island when the bow of the Bay City tore into us, and the impact was heard by the Bay City, as her bow had been torn up, but Captain Rogers said he did not need assistance and we proceeded.

"It was a case of their not understanding the whistles and there is no other explanation. It seems that the Bay City's pilot did not hear the whistles. I believe Captain Rogers was at the helm of the Bay City."

When asked as to the cause of the accident, Captain William Rogers said he was at the wheel of the Bay City, and that it was a case of misunderstanding of signals. After declaring that no one was hurt, he refused to further talk of the collision.

LABORER FALLS FORTY FEET TO HIS DEATH

Falling forty feet last evening at 5 o'clock into a coal bunker at Moore & Scott's shipyard, at the foot of Adeline street, and striking upon his head, T. O. He died at the Receiving hospital two hours later from a depressed fracture of the left temporal region and a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain.

Wilson was working at the edge of the bunker. He mistook his footing and plunged headlong to the bottom of the pit. Fellow workmen took him out. He was middle-aged, married and resided in East Oakland. The body is at the morgue.

Newspaper Advertisement Points Way to Health

I can truthfully say that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a very good medicine, not alone for kidney trouble, but also for weak and sore back, as well as for rheumatism.

About a year ago I became ill and unable to work, my trouble being a lame back. I read of your Swamp-Root in the newspaper and in an Almanac. Believing it would do me good I went to my druggist, Mr. Skinner, and purchased a bottle. Finding relief in one fifty-cent bottle I purchased several more, and in a short time was able to continue with my work and am today feeling well and strong. I always recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to my friends as I believe it is as good a medicine as can be found.

SPLENDID HOMES TO BE BUILT

Finest Close-in Property Appeals to Out-of-Town People.

Nothing is more patent and illustrates more emphatically the development which has taken place during the past three years in the district adjoining the north end of Lake Merritt, than the fact that should be selected as the place to hold the first auction of any magnitude in Oakland for five years is a remarkable event, and will give to the public an exceptional opportunity to obtain choice holdings under standard values.

Public parks have been created of extraordinary beauty, broad avenues of perfect construction and hundreds of the most costly and attractive residences beautified by well kept grounds. Previously it was in a state of nature practically unoccupied and for the want of modern roadways inaccessible, although within a few minutes of the busiest part of the city.

As the result of the investment of many millions of dollars in all kinds of improvements essential to develop its natural fitness for settlement as an exclusive residential quarter, it has been brought to public attention now, as it never was brought before, by the public announcement made by the Layman Real Estate Company that on next Saturday afternoon, April 8, it will sell at public auction to the highest bidder sixty-eight lots of ample proportions, each fitted for modern construction, macadamized avenues, equipped with everything essential for health, comfort and convenience, in the Piedmont Terrace-by-the-Lake tract.

INVENTION RENDERS AIR WARSHIPS POWERLESS

WASHINGTON, April 6.—A new death-dealing device for use in aerial warfare has been patented by the Krupps, the well-known German manufacturers. It consists of a highly sensitive fuse which insures the explosion of a projectile upon impact with the delicate resistance afforded by the gas bag of a balloon or light canvas covering of an aeroplane.

Up to this time the explosion of such projectiles in aerial warfare practice has been dependent altogether upon time fuses, but the Krupps, by their invention, have eliminated the large elements of uncertainty of this method, and have added a weapon which will be an important factor in aerial warfare of the future.

30,000 LISTEN TO ROOSEVELT SPEAK

Tacoma Citizens Turn Out in Numbers to Honor Visiting Colonel.

TACOMA, April 6.—On his arrival in Tacoma early today Theodore Roosevelt was greeted by a committee of citizens which directed his movements for the few hours he spent in this city. Roosevelt attended a private breakfast when he left his car, going from the hotel on an automobile tour of the city, in the course of which he reviewed the Grand Army men and Veterans of the Spanish War. Among the guests at the breakfast were three members of his old regiment, the Rough Riders.

The principal address Roosevelt delivered here was shortly before noon at the stadium, where fully 30,000 persons were gathered to greet him. It was probably the largest audience that Mr. Roosevelt had addressed during his present tour.

The structure, which was erected by popular subscription for the high schools of Tacoma, is one of the two or three of the kind in the country. Its seating capacity is more than 30,000, and there did not appear to be any noticeable number of vacant seats when Roosevelt stepped on the platform. Immediately after his address at the stadium Roosevelt was taken to the new municipal dock to board a steamer for Seattle.

AROUSES HIS IRE.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6.—The vials of Rooseveltian wrath were opened at the Commercial Club's banquet in his honor last night, when one of the stunts, a stage "queen from the African jungles," delivered a monologue the keynote of which was that the ladies of her set had been given new ideas by the coming of the mighty American hunter with his talk about race suicide.

As the queen began to talk Roosevelt's face hardened, and as she proceeded his face showed anger written all over it. "The subject of motherhood," said the Colonel a few minutes later, when his turn to speak arrived, "should not be a subject for jest. I have enjoyed the other novel features of this dinner but this one displeases me. I do not like such jests."

The Colonel's remark was received in silence.

EDWARD STEVENS ESCAPES POLICE

Man Wanted in Los Angeles
Breaks Jail in Denver, Colorado.

DENVER, April 6.—Edward Stevens, alias Frank Stevens, alias Francis Ryan, who is wanted in Los Angeles, Cal., charged with a big real estate swindle, escaped from the matron's department of the city jail today. Stevens made his way to the roof where he descended by means of a fire escape on an adjoining building.

Stevens was arrested at the Union depot here on March 29, and with his three young children was placed in the matron's department at the jail. He was well provided with money.

SUIT AGAINST SAFE COMPANY IS HEARD

Judge John Ellsworth is still occupied with the suit of the Waltz Safe & Lock Company against Mrs. Silveria, the defendant's cross-complaint for damages being heard today. The safe and lock company brought suit for a balance due on a safe as per contract. Mrs. Silveria claims that the safe was not fireproof, but from her own testimony and that of a witness who was present when the safe was opened about a month after the great fire in San Francisco, in April, 1906, some of the jewelry was discolored by moisture. The testimony further showed that this moisture is an element necessary in the fireproof filling in a safe, when subjected to a severe heat, to keep the contents of the safe from being destroyed. In other words, the safe people claim that it was this very moisture that materially helped to save the contents of Mrs. Silveria's safe.

CONGREGATIONALISTS OF BERKELEY HOLD REUNION

BERKELEY, April 6.—A notable reunion of the oldest members of the First Congregational church of this city, the first event of its kind since the organization of the society thirty-seven years ago, is to be held tonight at the home of Mrs. George D. Dornin, mother of former Councilman George W. Dornin of Oakland, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bryant, 2521 Benvenue avenue.

The affair will be in honor of Rev. J. B. Seabury, founder and pastor of the First Congregational church, Berkeley, in 1874, and his wife.

The aged clergyman, who is here with Mrs. Seabury on a visit from Wellesley Hills, Mass., a suburb of Boston, will greet thirty or forty guests this evening, many of whom were members of the first church of this denomination in Berkeley.

Rev. Seabury is now a retired minister.

"THE LURE OF THE OLD WORLD" LECTURE TOPIC

On Friday evening, April 7, the Rev. F. S. Brush, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Alameda, will deliver a lecture entitled, "The Lure of the Old World," at the common school assembly hall. The lecture will be held under the auspices of the Oakland Young Women's Christian Association. Dr. Brush has spent years in Europe and has collected a number of interesting stereoscopic views. He has been able to purchase slides of famous old paintings, statues and buildings, all of which will be shown to his audience.

ART EXPERTS AT WORK ON 800 PAINTINGS

PITTSBURG, April 6.—The fifteenth annual art exhibit opened today when the international jury of awards began the work of judging the 800 paintings hung in the galleries of the Carnegie Institute. Three days will be required before the jury's work is done.

MAYOR MOTT, LEADER OF CIVIC PROGRESS

THE RESOLUTIONS endorsing Mayor Mott for re-election adopted at the Business Men's luncheon embody a statement of facts which should appeal to every friend of progress and every person interested in the welfare and prosperity of Oakland. It is a record of achievement that should make every citizen proud. Not only does this record challenge comparison, but it points to a duty—a duty to the city, to the cause of civic development.

It presents an invincible argument in favor of Mayor Mott's re-election. It suggests a comparison between existing conditions and the conditions which existed prior to the first election of Frank K. Mott that carries its own moral and exhortation.

But while the business men based their endorsement on a record of achievement which reflects the highest honor on the man who initiated and led in it they neglected to state one powerful argument in Mayor Mott's favor. That argument is contained in the question, "Who shall be elected if not Frank K. Mott?" If we turn from Mott the choice must inevitably fall on the Socialist candidate or Dr. Jackson. It is inconceivable that a community in the full possession of its faculties should desire to substitute either for Mott at the head of the municipal government.

When Mott became Mayor less than six years ago there were less than three miles of paved streets in the city, the general condition of the macadamized thoroughfares was bad, and the equipment for fire protection was wholly inadequate to the needs of the city. There were no parks, or children's playgrounds; the Twelfth-street marsh had not been reclaimed and Lake Merritt was a foul-smelling mudhole.

Mark the change! Many miles of modern pavements have been laid down; seven new concrete fire houses have been built, and the fire department fully equipped and placed in the highest condition of efficiency; an auxiliary salt water plant has increased the protection from fire and lowered the cost of insurance; playgrounds for the children have been added at several of the leading schools, and park lands have been acquired and improved; Lake Merritt has been dredged and the Twelfth-street marsh filled in—it is now being improved for a public playground.

A system of sewer mains costing over $1,000,000 has been constructed; the old wooden outfall sewers have been replaced by concrete outlets, and extensive storm water drains have been constructed. The shores of Lake Merritt have been beautified and a free public museum established. When the improvements now in progress are completed Oakland will have one of the finest systems of pleasure grounds on the continent.

But this enumeration only begins the record of achievement. When Mott was first elected the waterfront was involved in litigation; it was mainly a vast stretch of unimproved mud flats. Through the efforts of Mayor Mott the city now has an undisputed title to the waterfront, and has extended its proprietary rights to the shores of the Brooklyn Basin. A great system of docks and wharves has been projected for the unoccupied portions of the waterfront, the cost of which has been provided by a bond issue. Contractors are now at work on the Brooklyn Basin, the southern harbor front and western waterfront, making improvements that will ultimately give Oakland unsurpassed facilities for handling marine commerce. A belt railroad system has been provided for as a supplementary facility. All the tenants on the waterfront have acknowledged the city's title and accepted lease-holds from the municipality. All private improvements are made under sanction of the city and under direction of its authority. Before long the waterfront will become a source of direct profit to the city besides being a potential factor in promoting its growth in commerce and manufacturing.

As a result of these projected municipal improvements manufacturing plants are seeking sites on the waterfront. The improvements now in progress will bring ship and car together for miles along the waterfront, and the belt line railroad will provide for the quick and cheap interchange of commodities and afford every facility for factories.

This era of development came in with the election of Mayor Mott six years ago. He inaugurated the scheme of municipal improvement and expansion. He has labored unceasingly to overcome obstruction and sweep away obstacles, striving always to keep up the forward movement.

This movement is not limited to municipal activities. The spirit of the Mott administration has communicated itself to all classes of people, and has stimulated development in every direction. Next month contracts will be let for the new million-dollar city hall. Private enterprise has its counterpart in the splendid hotel now being erected at Harrison and Fourteenth streets. In every other direction the impulse of municipal development is discernible in individual and corporate activity.

Largely because of the waterfront improvements projected by the city Congressman Knowland was enabled to get government appropriations for deepening the harbor channel and dredging out the Brooklyn Basin. What the city was doing furnished Mr. Knowland with his strongest argument. Mayor Mott is responsible for what the city is doing.

This grand scheme of harbor and park development is incomplete, but it is progressing as rapidly as conditions permit. It is taking shape day by day and when it is a little further along casual observer can discern the grandeur of the conception and the boldness of the design which has carried it thus far.

But the era of development is now at a crucial stage. It is threatened with interruption and destructive alterations which will arrest the work in progress. Should the affairs of the city be entrusted to men who are hostile to the plans on which development has been inaugurated, disaster is sure to result. Instead of constructive work we shall have pulling to pieces; instead of a policy of co-operation and conciliation we shall have conflict and a resumption of factional and personal hostilities. Hence there is only one safe, wise thing to do in the coming election, and that is to re-elect Mayor Mott. It is dangerous to entrust the great work he has inaugurated to other hands. It is folly to commit the work of progressive development to men hostile to it and who would derange the plans formed with so much care.

The business men have struck the right note in the campaign. They have spoken for civic progress, for development along the broadest lines and for sound principles of administration. What they say can be compressed in three words. "Re-elect Mayor Mott."

The Rift in the Lorimer Case.

The latest development in the Lorimer case confirms the impression at first formed that a group of men interested in tariff and trust legislation saw an opportunity to elect Lorimer, who is a man after their own hearts, and put the money up to bring it about. The Legislature was dead-locked, and a coalition of Republicans and Democrats was formed to elect Lorimer. It does not appear that Lorimer personally participated in the corrupt deal or directed the movement to make himself United States Senator, although he was probably apprised of it and told to have his followers in hand to act when the word was given.

Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Company, told the Senate Bribery Investigating Committee of the Illinois Legislature that he was the person who informed H. H. Kohlsaat, editor of the Chicago Record-Herald, that a fund of $100,000 had been raised to elect Lorimer. Edward Hines, a prominent lumber dealer, came to him, so Funk asserted, after Lorimer was elected and asked him for $10,000 on behalf of the International Harvester Company. This was the amount Hines said the International Harvester Company was expected to contribute toward paying the expense of electing Lorimer. Edward Tilden, connected with the packing combine, was the man designated to receive the money. Funk refused to contribute and informed Cyrus H. McCormick, head of the harvester trust, who approved of his action. Subsequently Funk informed Mr. Kohlsaat, who wrote an editorial for the Chicago Record-Herald, charging that Lorimer was elected by corrupt means and that a fund of $100,000 was raised by Chicago business men to bring it about. It was this editorial that provoked the inquiry which resulted in the revelation made by Funk, who testified before the committee to save Kohlsaat from going to jail for contempt.

While Funk's testimony throws no additional light on the actual corruption of members of the Legislature, it shows where the money came from and the motive for its expenditure. As might have been expected, the trail runs directly to the door of the meat packing combine. Somebody put up the $100,000 in a lump and took the chance of other interests exposed to unfavorable legislation being induced to pay a proportion of it. Hines, the man who approached Funk, is the man who told the committee a few days ago that President Taft assisted Lorimer. The President promptly denied Hines' statement. According to Hines Senator Aldrich told him the President wanted Lorimer elected. Hines appears to have been an active agent for Lorimer all round.

Funk's revelation has given the committee a lead which may prove fruitful of results. Possibly all the sources of the $100,000 fund may be traced up. At any rate, enough has been revealed to clearly indicate who originated the scheme and put up the money. It is sufficient to cause the fight on Lorimer to be renewed in the Senate. The changes in that body are unfavorable to Lorimer. Nearly all the new members are against him, and public indignation over his exculpation shows no signs of subsiding.

Councilman Bronner for School Director No. 6.

Councilman M. R. Bronner's candidacy for the position of School Director No. 6 under the new charter cannot be too highly commended. As a member of the present City Council he has proved to be one of the most active, intelligent and progressive public representatives. Every measure which inured to Oakland's advantage and advancement has found in him an ardent and energetic supporter. He was an earnest advocate of the granting of the Seventh street franchise, the electrification of the railway service and the improving of which, with a modern permanent pavement, curbs, gutters and sidewalks, means so much to the future of the southern part of the city, and his unflinching loyalty to the measure has made for him a host of warm friends in that and other quarters of the city.

Mr. Bronner is splendidly equipped for the school directorship for which he aspires. His educational qualifications are incontestable. His high standing in the business community is demonstrated by the responsible position which he holds as assistant cashier in the Central Savings Bank. In every respect he is a man of fine attainments, of superior intelligence and unquestioned integrity, and Oakland will be fortunate indeed in securing his services on the reorganized board of school directors under the new charter. It is progressive men of his type the city needs.

Expansion of Modern Street Pavements.

No city on the Pacific Coast has shown greater activity in the modernization of the pavements of its main thoroughfares during the past six years than Oakland has done. Six years ago this city had barely three miles of modernly paved streets. Most of the remainder of the public streets were macadam roadways, and the majority of the mileage of these was in a poor or wrecked condition as the result of official inattention.

When Mayor Mott took hold of the reins of municipal government he at once introduced the policy of modernizing the pavements of the business thoroughfares and the main avenues leading to and from the city. As the result of his energetic efforts, Oakland's public streets have undergone a marvelous transformation, and there are now at least twenty miles of clean, smooth and permanently paved roadways in the city which add immensely to the welfare and comfort of not only all business men located in the shopping, office and banking district, but also of the community at large. The change has added incalculably to the attractions of Oakland and to the value of its real property. Moreover, the policy of street improvement which Mayor Mott adopted at the beginning of his administration, and which he has since vigorously and intelligently carried out, is being prosecuted today on a larger scale than ever to the advantage of every interest in the city.

During Mayor Mott's progressive tenure of office, modern asphalt pavements have been laid on Broadway to Twenty-second street; on Telegraph and San Pablo avenues; on Harrison street, to the lake shore; on Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets; and on many of the intersecting streets. Meantime, in the southern end of the city, modern permanent pavements, capable of carrying the heaviest traffic of the commercial water front and manufacturing districts, have been laid on several sections of Second and Third streets, and plans have been formed for their early extension. These notable changes have materially influenced the economies of the manufacturing industries and commercial interests located in that quarter of the city and reduced the wear and tear on the animals and rolling stock of the numerous companies engaged in hauling the weighty products of the manufacturer and the heavy merchandise handled on the wharves of the harbor.

The beneficial effects which have been produced by the laying of these modern street pavements are so apparent to everybody that the necessity for their general extension throughout the territory between Twenty-second street and the southern water front and from the shores of Lake Merritt and the line of Fallon street to the western water front of the city are now generally recognized by the community, and it is in strict conformity with the progressive plans of street improvement which Mayor Mott has promulgated and is earnestly intent upon seeing carried out.

What with its finely paved business streets and broad boulevards, extending in all directions, Oakland's fame as a modern, progressive, enterprising and ambitious city is not only strengthened at home, but is spreading rapidly abroad.

OUR BIG SCHOOL PROBLEM

There is a pretty big tragedy in the experiences of William Shiel, a Chicago school boy of 15, who killed himself because he did not pass his examinations at school.

He had failed on former occasions to turn in creditable examination papers, with the result that other boys of his age were passing him, and he was "put back" with younger boys.

When he decided to give up the struggle he wrote a note to his father; and in it there is a note of that it is equal would be difficult to find.

"I couldn't get along at school," he wrote. "I tried my best, and I couldn't learn. The other boys and girls did their lessons, but they were too much for me. Don't blame teacher."

There is something so forlorn, and yet so manly, in this last statement, that one's attention is turned again to the problem of school examinations.

The boy could not learn his lesson in Chicago might have been the brainiest pupil in his class. Already he had learned the lesson of fairness; the "don't blame teacher" proves this. And the youth of 15 who has learned to be fair has manifested great development, of the best kind.

Perhaps in too many schools the lesson is too highly considered and the process is too little valued. It is of comparative little importance that pupils remember the facts in the school books. It is of the utmost importance that the acquire the faculty of reasoning properly. The geometrical theorem is not of the slightest value to ninety-nine pupils out of a hundred, except that it strengthens the faculty for orderly arrangement and logical sequence. The same might be said of many of the school lessons.

If the progress of pupils might be estimated on a basis of their daily recitations, and the evidences of a growing comprehension, and not upon their ability to remember, at the end of the session, the facts and figures covered during the preceding nine months, there might be fewer discouragements among the young students, and a much greater amount of genuine progress.—St. Louis Times.

GIVE TRADE A CHANCE.

We attack corporations upon altogether wrong principles. We should control them, not to make a place for competitors, but they should be made to know and feel with a firm hand that they must serve the consumer and that this will be the test to which they will be brought. They shall be permitted to make a liberal profit, but they shall not exact extortion nor corner foodstuffs. That is piracy. Laws against restraint of trade are farcical and reflect infinite discredit upon the intelligence of our times. They did not originate in statesmanship. They will pass out with the demagogues that created them. Trade is always being restricted as trade is being promoted. You cannot promote trade without restraining trade. Whatever serves the consumer should have the right of way. And the consumer is not served by laws that embarrass and hinder trade in its great corporate forms. The consumer pays the bills of every such prosecution.—Chancellor Day, in Leslie's.

OUR JUDGES ALL RIGHT.

The fact that no one appeared in opposition at the hearing on the resolve for a constitutional amendment providing for the election instead of the appointment of all judges below the supreme bench, in this state, indicates that the movement is not taken seriously. If it were, no room in the state house would hold the remonstrants. The Massachusetts judiciary enjoys a measure of public confidence that is rarely extended to similar bodies that have to depend for their tenure on the uncertainties of politics. New York has tried more than once to return to the appointive method, but finds that it was much easier to make the mistake than it is to rectify it.—Boston Transcript.

Twenty Years Ago Today

The Pacific Coast Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church is in session at Santa Rosa. Among the officers elected are the following Oaklanders: Mrs. P. D. Browne, Mrs. J. M. Condit and Mrs. H. B. Smith.

Timothy Brennan, administrator of the estate of James Brennan, deceased, has instituted suit against the Amador Marble company, Hiram E. Tubbs, et al., to recover $50,000 damages. Brennan was killed by a falling derrick at Mountain View.

Samuel C. Partridge, who resides at 1222 Webster street in this city, is engaged in business and is now acting as a member of the grand jury across the bay. The question has been raised that all the acts of the grand jury are invalidated because of his residence on this side.

W. R. Hearst, son of the late Senator Hearst of California, has just established in Washington a bureau to carry out the provisions of the bill championed by his father and passed by the Congress providing for the payment of the Indian depredation claims, which probably amount to $20,000,000 or more. Hearst's bureau will be called the Examiner's honor of his San Francisco newspaper.

Secretary of War Francisco arrived from Los Angeles this afternoon on a special train with officials of the Southern Pacific company, who met him in the southern city.

One of the prettiest weddings that East Oakland has ever seen was on Wednesday evening when Miss B. Georgiana Edwards was led to the altar by Dr. Channing Cook. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sangteller and the groom is the youngest son of the late Elisha Cook. Mr. and Mrs. Phineas White were surprised at their home, 765 Twenty-second street, by a large number of friends last evening, the occasion being the celebration of their twentieth wedding anniversary.

Peter Jackson, who is matched to fight Jim Corbett at the California Club in May, was thrown from a buggy in which he was driving yesterday in Brooklyn. He was on his way to Joe Delev's resort on the San Leandro road, where he is training.

John Bechtel, an old gentleman residing at 1465 Eleventh street, died suddenly about noon today from heart failure occasioned by exertion in running for a San Pablo car.

Coll Deane, the well known mining operator, died suddenly yesterday about noon at his residence, 223 Cole street in San Francisco, and a strange circumstance in connection with his death is the fact that a crank had predicted it several days previous. One Carl Vogt, who had lost considerable money on the stock market last Monday, sent Deane a "message and warrant of death," which was sworn to before L. Meilinger, a notary public. Deane was a resident of Oakland for a number of years and he owned the Col. Deane tract between Webster street and Lake Merritt.

SYNDICATE AFTER OIL PROPERTIES

Who's Who in Latest Financial Deal Puzzles Those Interested in Stocks.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Members of the financial marts of San Francisco and New York are puzzling over a problem which has just developed as to who are directly behind the negotiations for purchasing the controlling stock of the Associated Oil Company and of the Union Oil Company. Following a deal which is pending, by which the Southern Pacific Company, through its bankers and president, Robert S. Lovett, is to sell the controlling stock of the Associated Oil Company to a syndicate of New York and London capitalists, comes the announcement that a similar syndicate has secured an option to take the first $5,000,000 of bonds of the recently authorized $20,000,000 bond issue of the Union Oil Company, with a proviso that it may take at an agreed price a certain percentage of the company's stock.

This syndicate has paid $500,000 for the option, which is in unusual form. It has the first call for the first $5,000,000 of the bond issue at a certain price below par, with accrued interest.

EXPERTS IN FIELD.
Agents of the syndicate, who are experts in oil-bearing lands and mechanical experts, are in California preparing a report on the value of the Union Oil Company properties as security for a bond issue. If after studying the reports of the experts the syndicate does not favor the company's plan as security for a bond issue, the $500,000 advanced is to be considered a "sight loan" by it to the Union Oil Company.

Whether the people in this syndicate are in any way identified financially with the combination seeking the control of the Associated from the Southern Pacific is not known.

STANDARD NOT INVOLVED.
The Southern Pacific bankers and President Lovett as a matter of policy in this Western country, have never thought of selling the control of the Associated to the Standard Oil people. It is said the latter are not quarreling with them on this account.

It is therefore a positive fact that Standard is not to get control of Associated. Union Oil has 301,000 shares of stock as against Associated's 400,000 shares and 250,000 shares for the Standard Oil of California. Union Oil pays dividends of 60 cents per month per share. Standard also pays dividends. Associated does not pay dividends, its policy being to use net revenue for extensions and improvements and thus minimize bond issues.

THIRD TRIAL OF ALLEGED FIREBUG BEGAN TODAY

Emiline G. Sweetser's third trial in the Superior Court for burning the residence of her husband, William A. Sweetser, in Fruitvale, was begun this forenoon. Judge James D. Murphy of Mono county, sitting in the probate department, will empanel the jury and then Judge Brown will take the case as soon as he disposes of the trial of Dr. C. Edward Merritt, which is now drawing to a close. The latter case will probably go to the jury tomorrow, arguments being the order today.

At both previous trials the jury failed to agree upon a verdict in the case of Mrs. Sweetser.

OAKLAND FIREMEN BREEZE TO FIRE ON SEVENTH

The fire department was called out shortly after noon today to extinguish a small blaze in a two-story frame building at 1172 Seventh street. The roof had caught on fire, either from the heat of the chimney or from a spark falling upon it, it is not certain which, and as it was very dry the flames ran along the ridge and dropped down, burning a square hole in the ceiling of the room. An alarm was turned in, but the fire was virtually put out by neighbors working with buckets of water before the engine arrived. The estimated damage will not exceed $5. Mrs. A. Wynum is tenant of the upper rooms and Mrs. Richard Barten of Filbert street, near Eighth, owner.

FIND PURLOINER OF MRS. ARMOUR'S BONDS

Woman Is Blamed for Taking Securities From Safe Deposit Box.

COMPANION OF OWNER IS ACCUSED OF THEFT

Discovery Fails to Break the Friendship of Meat King's Widow.

KANSAS CITY, April 6.—The Star says today: It was a woman who took securities to the value of $105,000 from the safe deposit box of Mrs. S. B. Armour in the New England National bank and sold them. She was young, entertaining and close to the widow of the late packer. So fond had Mrs. Armour become of her and so satisfied was she of the young woman's business ability that she had named her as an executor in her will. Since the discovery the will has been changed.

The most remarkable thing about the entire disappearance and sale of the securities is the fact that so far as can be ascertained there has been no interruption in the friendship of Mrs. Armour for the young woman.

CIRCULATE NAME.
The name of the young woman began to be circulated today by word of mouth and in a dozen banks and law offices it was heard. Tradersmen by the score know of purchases and the reported pilfering of the Armour strong box supplied the missing link. One firm of brokers is said to have handled about $80,000 worth of the bonds. All of them the young woman brought to the office personally. She represented that Mrs. Armour wished the securities sold as soon as possible. Knowing the close relations between the young woman and Mrs. Armour the broker accepted the commission without suspicion.

When they were on their honeymoon a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor planned to re-visit Del Monte and the surrounding country a year later and the trip was in accordance with the plans made at that time. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left here last Friday evening at 6 o'clock, reaching the Hotel Vendome in San Jose at 7:30 o'clock. After spending the night at the hotel, they motored to Del Monte the following day. Mr. Taylor stated that the roads were in fairly good condition. The trip up from San Jose was made in an hour and twenty minutes, the rain of the last few days making the road heavy with mud.

Don't Grow Old Too Fast

"A man is as old as his arteries." Old age is merely a hardening of the arteries—and hardening of the arteries comes from excessive eating of high-protein food such as meat and eggs. Cut down the high-protein diet for awhile and eat Shredded Wheat. It supplies all the body-building material in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Of course will not "cure" appendicitis—nor will any other cereal food. The excessive eating of indigestible foods, however, gradually brings on stomach and bowel disorders—and these can be prevented by a daily diet of thoroughly cooked cereals. Shredded Wheat is best for this purpose because it is steam-cooked, shredded and twice baked, retaining the bran coat, which is so valuable in keeping the bowels healthy and active.

Heat the Biscuit in the oven to restore crispness and serve with hot or cold milk and a little cream, adding salt or sugar to suit the taste. It also makes delicious combinations with stewed or preserved fruits. Two Shredded Wheat biscuits with stewed fruit makes a wholesome nourishing meal.

STRANGERS PREY OF HIGHWAYMEN

Three Fall Victim to Thugs
While on Belated Way
Homeward.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Holdup men were busy between midnight and sunrise this morning and three belated citizens, all of them strangers in San Francisco, were robbed of their valuables, and handled more or less roughly in lonely districts, one of the culprits being captured by the prompt work of the police.

Filippo Giuseppe, a farmer, temporarily residing at 11 Turk street, was walking along McAllister street, near Market, when a man suddenly dashed from a doorway, seized him, and relieved him of his watch and chain, striking him over the head with some blunt instrument. Fearful of further injury, Giuseppe fled to Market street, where he chanced to meet Officers Maloney and Nolan, who straightway returned with him to the scene. As the trio turned the corner a man could be observed walking rapidly in the direction of Larkin street.

OFFICERS GIVE CHASE.

The officers ran after him, and after a chase, captured him on City Hall avenue. Near the spot where he was taken into custody Maloney found the watch and chain on a windowsill and the man was taken to the southern station and charged with robbery. He gave his name as Harry Gilmore.

While on his way to the waterfront at 130 a m., Herman Clausen, a U. S. S. lighthouse service, stationed at the Farrallone Islands, was seized by a tall negro, who grabbed him by the throat, took his watch and chain and bank book and escaped. The holdup was reported to the Harbor station.

A short time before, at Vallejo and Sansome streets, Frank Ahamer of Los Angeles was stopped by two robbers and relieved of $15 in greenbacks. The thugs beat him over the head and left him on the pavement. His cries attracted Edward Metcalf, watchman for the Dennis Bag Company, who pursued the highwayman, but was unable to catch up with them. Ahamer was carried into the office of the concern by Metcalf, and later sent to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment.

CHAUFFEUR TAKEN AFTER BATTLE

Accused Thief Refuses to Go to Jail Without a Struggle.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Halted by two policemen who were attracted by the tuxedo condition of his clothing, and bulging pockets, William Von Bayer, a chauffeur, 24 years old, put up a battle at 2 o'clock this morning on Sixth street near Market. Patrolmen E. C. Miles and J. Nolan were talking on the corner when Von Bayer came along. They approached him with their hands on their revolvers. In accordance with the recent instructions of the chief, asked him where he was going. Instead of replying, the fellow struck Nolan with his fist, hoping to fell him and began to wrestle with Miles.

STRUGGLE BEGINS.

The officers then began a struggle for mastery, but the culprit fought like a tiger, displaying unusual strength and at first defying his captors, who found it impossible to get hold of their clubs. After a five-minute encounter they finally subdued their man and when he had been forced to disgorge himself of his booty it was found that he had a large quantity of cigarettes, whisky and tobacco and other articles. A Colt's revolver, which he had made a desperate effort to get hold of during the fight, was also disclosed.

An investigation showed that the loot had been taken from the saloons of William Goldman at Sixth and Howard streets, which had been entered by removing a wire screen from a window. Von Bayer was charged with burglary.

SOCIALIST JUNTA PROTECTS ALDENA

Prisoner Held for Alleged Violation of Neutrality Law.

SAN DIEGO, April 6.—Salustiano Aldena, alias Jose Lopez, will be held to the United States District Court for trial on a charge of attempting to violate the neutrality laws of this country, according to intimations made by United States Commissioner H. T. Christian yesterday afternoon when he continued the hearing of the alleged filibuster to Saturday.

According to testimony of soldiers of Company H, Eighth Infantry, who captured Aldena in the brush near the Mexican line at Dulsuro he was attempting to cross the line with arms and ammunition. The attorney for the defense, who was engaged, it is said, by the Socialist revolutionary junta here, asked for a continuance late yesterday in order that he might have Captain Evans, commanding Company H, subpoenaed.

In granting the continuance the commissioner stated that the testimony of Captain Evans would have no effect on the hearing, and that he believed the continuance a waste of time. Aldena is in jail.

COURT COMPELS GIRL TO ATTEND SCHOOL

BERKELEY, April 6.—Nine-year-old Loretta Cammaratta, the dark-eyed daughter of Joseph Cammaratta of Addison and Fourth streets, returned to school this morning as the result of police and judicial persuasion. Joseph Cammaratta appeared before Judge Edgar yesterday afternoon on complaint of Truant Officer Francis McAllister, who found the girl playing in the streets instead of attending school.

Cammaratta pleaded not guilty to the charge of omitting to keep his daughter in a class room, and Loretta pulled up the sleeve of her dress and showed the court a bell on her arm, which, her father explained through Interpreter Benjamin Goodband, was very painful and said that he didn't want to send his girl to school. If she didn't feel well, Judge Edgar declared that Cammaratta had better see that his daughter went back to school to-day, and she did. The case was continued until May 2.

SERVES CHARGES ON CAPT. GLEESON

Seymour Carries Out Threat to Bring Police Head to Account.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Police Captain Henry Gleeson was this morning served with charges of neglect of duty preferred by Chief Seymour, in accordance with the latter's threats made two weeks ago. The accusation grew out of conditions in the Mission district over which Gleeson exercises supervision. The affair goes back to the charges made by Arthur G. Scholtz, an architect, in a speech before the Mission Promotion Association, in which he said that vice and violations of the law were rampant at the very doors of the homes of Mission residents. Gleeson combatted this assertion, and a woman proprietress of a hotel, brought criminal libel charges against Scholtz for his utterances. Subsequently Chief Seymour detailed Detective Gibson, a plain clothes man, and some female sleuths to gather evidence, and it was learned that young girls and women were unlawfully served with liquor in side rooms in restaurants and saloons in Gleeson's district. It is for failing to report these occurrences and to bring the offending proprietors to book that the charges are preferred against this executive officer in the department. A preliminary hearing of the charges will be held at the next meeting of the commission.

SUES TO DECREASE $7000 SALARY OF ASSESSOR

George B. Trahan Declares Dalton's Raise Is Unconstitutional.

TAXPAYER OBJECTS TO LEGISLATIVE ACTION

Remuneration of County Official Has Been $533 a Month Since January 1.

Suit was instituted in the Superior Court late yesterday afternoon by George B. Trahan, with the status of taxpayer, to prevent County Assessor Henry P. Dalton collecting a salary greater than $4000 per annum, on the ground that to increase the salary of a county official while he is in office is contrary to the constitution of the state. Notice of the suit was immediately served upon County Auditor E. F. Garrison, together with a citation to appear in court April 14 and show cause why he should not be restrained from paying the county assessor $7000 a year allowed to him by legislative enactment. The county auditor took the matter up with Deputy District Attorney E. A. Clark and after a lengthy conference they arrived at the conclusion that Dalton was entitled to the $7000 salary, a new term of office having begun when he succeeded himself the first of the current year and the date upon which his increased salary of $7000 per annum went into effect.

OUTCOME OF LEGISLATION.

The suit is the outcome of the passing by two legislatures of two identical bills. The state Assembly of 1909 passed a county government act affecting Alameda county, which allowed the assessor a salary of $4000 a year; fees for collecting taxes on personal property not secured by real estate, and on poll taxes. This law provided, however, that on and after January 1, 1911, the assessor should receive in full for his services $7000 a year, the fees being abolished. The legislature which recently adjourned passed another county government act, in which the law covering compensation for the assessor after January 1, 1911, was affirmed. Thus the question raised in the Trahan suit is whether or not this constitutes increasing the assessor's salary during his term of office.

The county assessor has been collecting from the county monthly since January 1 a salary at the rate of $7000 per annum. He has received $533.33 for each of the months of January, February and March.

COMPROMISE ENDS KENDALL CONTEST

Mrs. Etta Chesley Agrees to Return Property Given Her by Mother.

When the petition for the appointment of a guardian for Mrs. Elizabeth Kendall, filed by Mrs. Clara Kendall, a daughter-in-law, is called up tomorrow morning in the probate department of the Superior Court it will be withdrawn by Attorney F. L. Burton, representing the applicant. The case has been settled out of court.

Mrs. Etta Chesley, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Kendall, accused by her sister-in-law of having secured from her mother by misrepresentation property valued at about $10,000, has agreed to return the property with the understanding that she shall be appointed guardian of the old lady instead of Mrs. Clara Kendall.

The latter alleged in her complaint that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Chesley, had unduly influenced her mother to deed over the property to her. Mrs. Chesley resides at 1162 Tenth street.

DEATH SWEEPS IN TORNADO'S PATH

Several Persons Are Killed and Many Houses Wrecked by Wind.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 6.—Tuesday's storm which swept Alabama generally did not pass without its toll of death. Late reports show several dead and injured and heavy property damage. A tornado passed about two miles east of Pine Hill at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, killing several negroes and severely injuring others. A negro church and school house were demolished and scores of negroes who had taken refuge in the church were injured. Two negro girls were instantly killed by falling timbers. At Leesburg twenty-five houses were demolished.

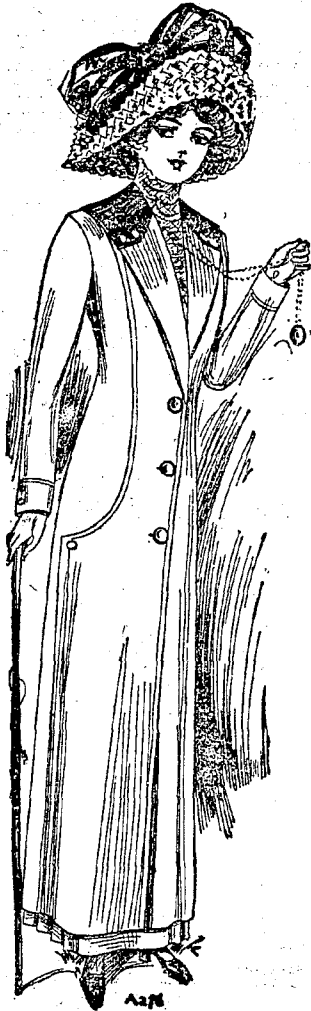

GUARD JURY AND JUDGE FROM BLACK HANDERS

CHICAGO, April 6.—Federal authorities are exercising unusual precautions at the trial of Count Gianni Alonzi, with sending threatening letters through the mails, to guard against any threats reaching the jury, or any violence upon United States District Judge Landis or others connected with the case. The jury will be guarded night and day until they have reported their verdict to Judge Landis. It is usual in the federal court to permit the jurymen to go to their homes at night, but the Alonzi jury will be kept together and closely guarded, owing to rumors that the jury in the former trial disagreed because one of them had received a "Black Hand" letter.

KNOWLAND'S PLAN TO BE FOLLOWED

Machinery Used at Canal by De Lesseps to be Exhibited at the Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Some of the machinery used by De Lesseps in his unsuccessful efforts to build a canal at Panama is to be rescued from the jungle at the Isthmus, where it was left to rust and will be preserved for exhibition at the Panama-Pacific fair in 1915.

This plan was announced yesterday from the office of the exposition company. It is intended to display the old machinery alongside that with which the canal is being pushed to completion. Congressman Knowland of Oakland suggested the idea to Colonel Goethals, in charge of the work of the canal, on the occasion of a recent visit to the zone. Goethals sent men into the jungle to secure some of De Lesseps' abandoned engines.

REJECTS RECIPROCITY. FREDERICKTON, N. B., April 6.—By a strict party vote an endorsement of the proposed reciprocity agreement between Canada and the United States has been refused by the New Brunswick legislature.

VETOES APPROPRIATION FOR G.A.R. ENCAMPMENT

ALBANY, N. Y., April 6.—Governor Dix today vetoed a bill appropriating $5000 for the promotion of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in Rochester next August. In his veto message the Governor says: "It was understood that the amount of the appropriation could be determined. In annual budget has not been definitely settled and without passing upon the merits of this appropriation, I therefore disapprove the bill."

Thompson is chief quartermaster of the West Virginia. He is from Waco, Texas, and enlisted in the navy eight years ago, when only 16 years of age.

FEDERAL PRISON AFFAIRS PROBED

Leavenworth Is Scene of Investigation That Stirs Things Up.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—Under a Leavenworth, Kan., date line, the Kansas City Times this morning says: "Two expert inquirers from the department of justice in Washington have started to turn the affairs of the federal prison here inside out. The most searching investigation in the history of the prison has been going on for ten days. Every official except the warden and the deputy warden are to be quizzed on the management of the prison, the treatment of prisoners and the disposal of supplies bought for the prison."

According to the Times the investigators are R. C. Lewis and Joseph F. Fishmeier, agents of the department of justice in Washington. The Times declared they made secret inquiry in the city of Leavenworth before going to the prison.

PLAN TO BUILD NEW CLUBHOUSE

Local Knights of Columbus Committee Meets Friday for That Purpose.

The annual meeting of the Knights of Columbus will be held Friday evening in the Knights of Columbus Club house, Tenth and Oak streets. It is expected that the stockholders will at this meeting take action on the proposition of erecting on their property a new hall and club rooms, as their present quarters are entirely inadequate to accommodate the largely increased membership.

MOTOR CLUB PLAN RUN TO SARATOGA

Sunday Selected as Date of First Club Tour; Many to Take Part in It.

At last night's meeting of the Oakland Motor Club, held in the Merchants' Exchange rooms, at which about fifty were present, it was decided to hold the first sociability run for members on next Sunday. Saratoga is the objective point. The start will be made at 8:30 Sunday morning from the flag pole at the junction of Broadway and Telegraph avenue. A parade through the principal streets of the city is scheduled as a forerunner to the start of the tour. Each party is to prepare and carry down its own basket lunch. A spread will then be held under the big trees at Saratoga. The run down will take about three hours. Fast time is not scheduled; this being the case, a dust storm for many of the tourists will be eliminated.

President Rob Martland is in charge of the details for the coming run and any motorist desiring to be one of Sunday's happy and big party can do so by communicating with him.

Yesterday the Board of Governors held its first meeting at the Forum and transacted business of considerable importance to the club. A general overhauling of the new club house from cellar to roof was decided upon. A big fence surrounding the house is included in the plans for improvement.

An emblem was temporarily adopted at last night's meeting.

CHALMERS CHASSIS OF INTEREST.

The cut out or sectional Chalmers chassis which was installed recently in the showroom of the Pioneer Automobile company is proving itself the big attraction of the week on local automobile Row. This chassis was one of the feature displays at the season's automobile shows in the East, it having created extensive interest alike at the New York, Chicago and Philadelphia exhibitions. The complete view afforded of the car's most secret working parts gives the chassis unusual educational value as a demonstrator of gas engine and general motor car construction. It will remain in San Francisco a few days longer before being taken to the various Chalmers sub-agencies in this part of California. It will eventually be shown all over the Pacific coast.

COLE AGENTS LEAVE FOR SOUTH.

A. E. Morrison, salesmanager for the Pacific Motor Car company, and Colonel H. W. Bradbury left yesterday afternoon on the steamship Harvard for Los Angeles, where they will attend the twenty-four hour automobile race on the Los Angeles motor dome. Just previous to his starting Morrison received a telegram from the Southern California metropolis stating that the Cole racing team had arrived there from Jacksonville where the cars had been competing in the Florida Beach races. Edmunds and Jenkins, the two drivers who have been piloting the Cole with much success in recent meets, will drive in the Los Angeles event. The Cole entry in the twenty-four hour contest has created unusual interest in Southern California metropolis largely because of the sensational victories won there last year on the same motor dome by Endicott's Cole car. On that occasion Endicott's Cole had commenced the meet as very much of a dark horse, sprung into national prominence by taking the measure of the most famous speed-kings in the country. On leaving Los Angeles the Cole team will come to Oakland where they will compete on the Elmhurst motor dome.

Before returning to San Francisco, Morrison and Bradbury expect to close several agencies in Southern California.

WEALTHY MINE OWNER ACQUITTED OF MURDER

KINGMAN, Ariz., April 6.—Dempsey D. Powell, son of one of the wealthiest cattle and mine owners of Arizona, has been acquitted of the murder of De Witt Milligan at Cherry Creek, Yavapai county, on August 30, 1909. The killing was the outcome of divorce proceedings initiated by Powell against his wife, who was a sister of Milligan.

San Jose Woman Accuses Sanitarium Owner of Making Child Prisoner.

SAN JOSE, April 6.—Declaring that her year-old baby was being held at the O'Connor Sanitarium for debts Mrs. Henry Suggs, the wife of a Santa Clara farmer, has appealed to District Attorney Free for the custody of the child.

Between sobs she said that her baby had been taken ill and that upon the advice of Dr. I. A. Beattie she had sent the child to the sanitarium. She said that the babe had recovered and that she wanted to take it home, but was refused until she could pay the money due for its care.

Dr. Beattie denied that the child is being held for debt, but said it is in such a critical condition that its removal would endanger its life.

Divorces Millionaire

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Because her husband had made her a millionaire and then abandoned her, Mrs. Charles O. McCasland was granted a divorce from one of the wealthiest and most prominent business men in St. Louis. Mrs. McCasland, a Los Angeles girl, married the multi-millionaire nineteen years ago, and left him last year. She told Judge Conroy that for eighteen years the husband made her life one of torture. In Denver, she testified, he took a railroad ticket from her and made her borrow money to get home. On another occasion he made such an uproar in a Pullman car because she was sick that she had to finish the journey alone in another coach.

He was not represented at the hearing. The court awarded the custody of the children, a daughter of 18, and a son of 5, to the mother. A property settlement had been made, it appears, and Mrs. McCasland has a handsome cash income of $300 monthly for herself and children.

Mrs. Frazier Sues

SANTA BARBARA, April 6.—A suit for divorce has been filed by Mrs. Rachel Frazier against Frank Duff Frazier. In her complaint Mrs. Frazier charges only desertion.

Mrs. Frazier is the daughter of F. F. Peabody of the firm of Cluett & Peabody, New York linen manufacturers. Her father is in this city, having purchased a place to live here for her.

Frank Duff Frazier is the son of F. S. Frazier, a multi-millionaire broker of Chicago and New York. The defendant is living on a ranch near Modesto, Ore. It is said he will not contest the suit.

The Fraziers have been well known in Santa Barbara for six years.

Tetrazzini Elusive

NEW YORK, April 6.—Mme. Tetrazzini is not only a rare songbird, but she is an elusive one.

Oscar Hammerstein, eager to serve her with papers to complete her contract, with the terms of his alleged contract, had his process servers at the Cunard pier to intercept her yesterday. Her manager, W. H. Leahy, "appeared worried," apparently, but after the Louisiana sailed his face broke into a smile.

"Why, don't you know Tetrazzini sailed from Halifax this morning?" he asked.

The outwitted process servers then saw a bright light.

Woman Missing

SACRAMENTO, April 6.—Experts are at work upon the books of Mrs. S. K. Bowen, manager of the Star Credit company, following her disappearance. She was a member of the Christian church.

Mrs. W. E. Crane, proprietress of the loan company, says a hasty examination showed a shortage of $1,100. She says she would swear to a complaint against Mrs. Bowen. She says that she left Mrs. Bowen in charge of the business while she was sick.

MICHIGAN WALKERS TO "HIKE" OUT WEST

JACKSON, Mich., April 6.—At the annual meeting of the Overland Walking Club it was decided that the 1912 "hike" would be through Colorado, Kansas, Utah, Nevada, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. This year the trip will be to upper Michigan. The members of the club, most of whom are middle-aged men, have made many tours of great length since its organization a number of years ago.

CERTAIN RESULTS

Many an Oakland Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Oakland. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement:

George R. Scott, 684 Thirty-seventh street, Oakland, Cal., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have given entire satisfaction in my case and for that reason I value them highly. In 1907 I gave a statement for publication, regarding my experience with them. At this time I gladly endorse them again. I doctored for years in an effort to get relief from a pain in my back and other difficulties due to disordered kidneys. No improvement was noticeable, however, and finally I discontinued the use of doctors' medicine. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills I was impressed and procuring a supply I began their use. Relief soon followed and almost before I realized it my back was free from pain and soreness. Since then I have been in need of a kidney medicine I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to help me."

Dunham, who murdered the entire Mc-

MEXICANS IN U. S. HELP REBELS

Are Lending Strong Financial Aid to the Insurgent Cause.

Peace Parleys Suddenly End at El Paso Between Madero and Diaz.

EL PASO, April 6.—A special to the Herald states that it has been decided in Mexico City that the governors of Michoacan, Tepic and Guanajuato, must go soon to appease the demand for a change in offices in various state governments, these men having held office for many years. The governor of Puebla recently resigned, and the resignations of the governors of these three other states are scheduled to occur soon.

L. Gutierrez de Lara, the Los Angeles socialist, captain of the insurgent army, starts in a few days on a tour of New Mexico in the interest of the insurrection to raise money and men. He says the plan now is to keep as many Mexicans at work in the United States as possible, so that they can contribute to the cause and keep the army provisioned and armed in the field. He says almost every Mexican in the border states is contributing half his wages to the insurgent cause.

"NEWSIES" ARE REBELS.

As an example of the sentiment along the border, a dozen Mexican newsboys in the county court house yesterday almost mobbed a lawyer who tauntingly called them federalists.

"Viva Madero," they all shouted, and several cursed the attorney, who said Diaz would whip Madero. "We're Maderistas," they every one proudly declared. Circulars are being distributed boldly on the streets urging recruits to join the Maderista army and large numbers are being sent across the border nightly near here.

Peace Parleys Come to a Sudden Halt Across the Border

EL PASO, April 6.—The peace parleys, in which the Maderos have been engaged for the last ten days, to all appearances came to a halt at an early hour this morning, after twenty-four hours of almost ceaseless telegraphing between this city and Chihuahua and the city of Mexico. That such is the case is confirmed by the Associated Press dispatch from Chihuahua last night. It is expected that Don Francisco and Don Alfonso Madero, Rogues Estrada and M. Hernandez, the former, attorney for the junta, and the latter an intermediary, will return to San Antonio tonight or tomorrow.

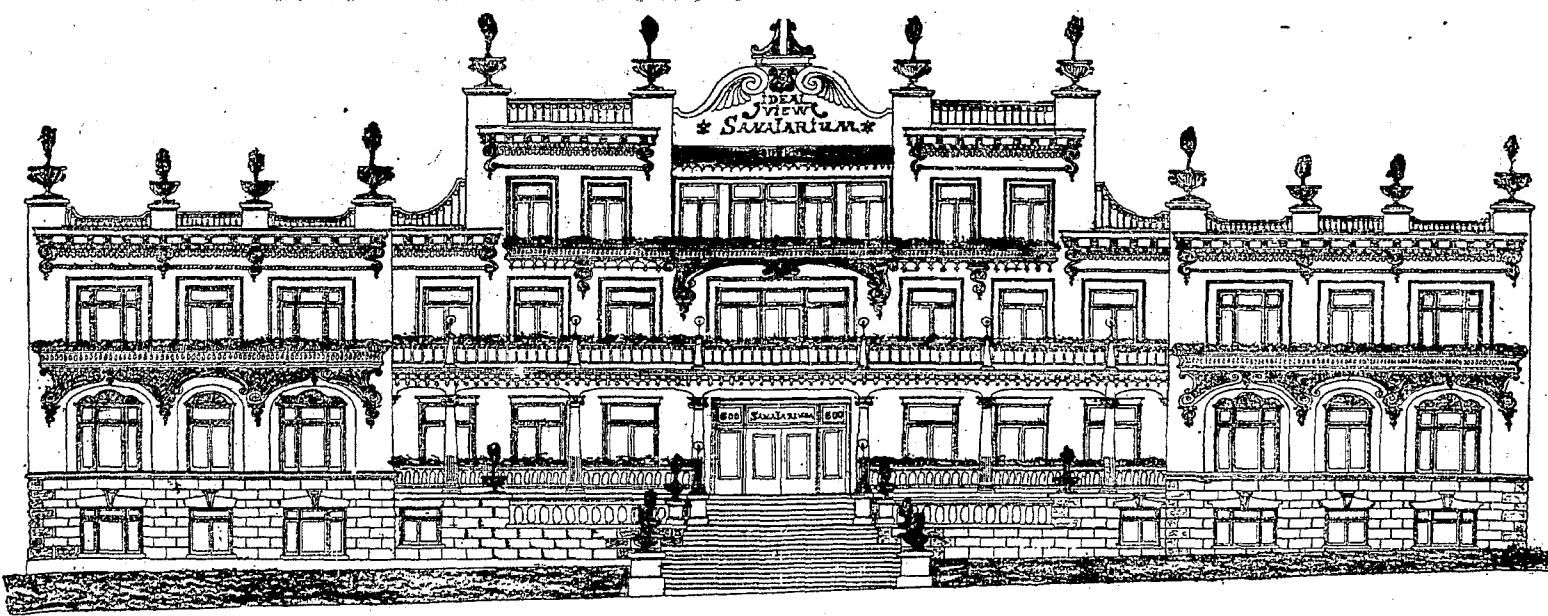

Rebels Lose Chief Recruiting Agent by Hand of Death

EL PASO, Texas, April 6.—Francisco Madero, Sr., received telegrams today advising him of the death of his father, Evaristo Madero, in Coahuila, at the age of 83. He was grandfather of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., head of the Mexican revolution, and was himself the head of a family that numbered close to a

NEW BERKELEY HOSPITAL TO BE BUILT COMMANDING VIEW OF BAY SECTION

Proposed Ideal View Sanitarium on Which Work Will Be Started at Once.

—A. LeGault, Architect.

BERKELEY, April 6.—The architect's plans for the Ideal View Sanitarium to be constructed on Solano avenue terrace, northeast of this city and near the "Thousand Oaks" tract, have just been completed. A. Le Gault is the architect and contractor for the building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, and will be used exclusively as a surgical hospital, with Dr. Carnac-Marquise, late of the French Hospital in San Francisco, as resident physician. The land upon which the sanitarium will be constructed comprises an entire block, triangular in shape, upon the hillside above the fog line, and so situated as to give a view from Martinez on the north to Niles canyon on the south. At present only the sanitarium proper will be constructed, but it is the plan later to put on the tract a residence for the physician and a house for nurses. The new building will accommodate nearly one hundred patients, and work will be commenced upon it at once. It is hoped to have it ready for occupancy by September. It will be of re-enforced concrete, with no wood used in the interior except that necessary for doors, which will be of bird's-eye maple. Marble and tiling will be extensively employed. The tract chosen for the site is very well located, being within two blocks of one of the proposed new Southern Pacific terminals and within four of a Key Route station.

thousand, operating factories, vineyards, farms and wine mills throughout Coahuila, Mexico.

Shifts Were Made in Cuban Cabinet Early This Morning

HAVANA, April 6.—A shift in the cabinet was made early this morning. President Gomez accepted the resignation of F. Machado, secretary of treasury, appointing in his place R. Martinez-Ortiz, who held the portfolio of agriculture. The latter post was given to Emilio Del Junco, secretary of justice, who is succeeded in his former office by Jesus Barraque.

Madero's Troops Are Preparing to Attack City of Chihuahua

MADEROS CAMP, San Andreas, Near Chihuahua, Mexico, April 6.—Orders have been sent throughout the insurgent ranks to be prepared for instant action. Francisco I. Madero, the insurgent leader, has changed his headquarters from Bustillos Hacienda to this point, which is within thirty-five miles of Chihuahua. The nature of the proposed movement is not divulged.

At Madera, a town of about 600 people, the insurgents have organized a police and municipal system under Albino Frois, father-in-law of General Orozco. Two sawmills and two box factories are being operated at Madera by their owners, under permission from the insurgents.

All the Americans in the mines and lumber camps in that neighborhood are receiving supplies through insurgent couriers. The Mexican Northwestern railway, running 180 miles to Madera, is under complete control of the insurgents, who have two trains and American crews. Whenever the officials of the railroad wish to send a supply train out of Chihuahua City they must obtain permission from the Mexican officials and then obtain a permit from Madero, to enter insurgent territory.

"May we send a provision train to Madera" is a question frequently sent to Orozco from Chihuahua City.

In this way a kind of party agreement is entered into between Governor Ahumada in the city and the insurgents in the fields. The trains and railroad, however, remain in control of the insurgents. Senor Madero says he proposes to extend the insurgent civil government until it includes Mexico City.

TRIO OF BURGLARIES REPORTED TO POLICE

Daylight burglars entered the residence of William H. Hall at 1108 Twenty-fourth street yesterday afternoon and ransacked the place, obtaining jewelry and other articles valued at $23. The complaint of the burglary was made to the police this morning.

Thieves broke into the store of the Burns Baking Powder Company at 553 Sixth street last night and looted the cash drawer of $6. The Pierce Hardware Company of Broadway and Twelfth streets complained that thieves had stolen six safety razor outfits, valued at $30, from a show case in the store.

GRAU GOT RELIGION, BUT LOST WIFE ON WAY

While the Salvation Army led Christ Grau to a higher and better life and gathered him into its fold, where he is at present an enthusiastic worker, it could not reclaim Florence Grau, his wife, according to a complaint for a divorce which he filed this forenoon, through Attorney Clinton G. Dodge. In fact, Mrs. Grau became so disgusted with her husband when he joined the Army that she left him. This was in 1908. Grau tried many times to win her back again and finally gave up in despair.

FEAR EFFECT OF STORM WATERS

Improvements for Linda Vista and Vernon Heights to Be Conditional.

Comprehensive improvements planned for the Linda Vista and Vernon Heights districts are conditional upon the elimination of bad storms and flood troubles which occur yearly, as the improvements would be destroyed by the work of the annual storms. To mitigate these conditions and permit the carrying out of the betterments projected, City Engineer P. C. Large storm sewer out specifications for a large storm sewer to cost more than $15,000, to run down Santa Clara and Walworth avenues. It is believed that this storm sewer would relieve the improvement and lay the way open to improving the streets.

Flood conditions are especially bad in the valley at Santa Rosa and Moss avenues between Oakland avenue and Vernon street. The council has authorized the preparation of plans and specifications for this storm sewer and will act upon the matter when it is submitted by City Engineer Turner.

The plans for the improvement of the district were initiated by the Linda Vista Improvement Club. They include a series of gas lamps along Monte Vista and Walworth avenues to light the district adequately, the remandamizing, cleaning and improvement of those and other streets with curbs and gutters, and the placing of sidewalks in the gaps not provided for in the past. The contract already been let for the improvement of Monte Vista from the hill gate down to Piedmont avenue and the Key Route.

Elaborate plans are being made for the affair, which will be attended by Masons from all the lodges about the bay.

A STERN CENSORSHIP. The New York public library has barred the works of Oliver Optic. Optic's works are not allowed in the Boston public library.—Boston Transcript. How long will these prigs abuse our patience? How far will the unbridled audacity of the book censor exert itself? Oliver Optic barred! At any moment some wretched, rash, intruding hand may snatch from the public library shelves our holiest treasures, the priceless writings of Mable or Van Dyke.—New York Sun.

DRINK CLOUDS DOCTOR'S MIND

Professional Man of Ability Is Held for Observation by the Authorities.

Dr. H. T. Thornburgh of Alameda, a surgeon in the volunteer army during the Spanish-American war and the Filipino insurrection, with a splendid record of service in the Philippine Islands, is confined at the Receiving Hospital for observation as to his sanity. He was arrested in the Encinal City several days ago for passing for bad checks of $5 each during a protracted spree and subsequent to his confinement in the city prison there developed symptoms of violent insanity. Assistant District Attorney Hynes directed his transfer to the Receiving hospital so that his case could be observed to learn whether or not the mental disorder is functional or simply the aftermath of the excessive use of liquor. Upon this depends whether the prisoner will be prosecuted or committed to an insane asylum.

According to the Alameda police Dr. Thornburgh has a bad record since he left the military service, all due to drink. Just prior to the great fire in San Francisco he was arrested in the city across the bay on a charge of forgery. The fire destroyed the records in the case and all evidence of the physician's guilt, forcing the dismissal of the prosecution. About a year ago Thornburgh was arrested in Sacramento for obtaining money under false pretenses, but for some reason this case was not prosecuted. He took up his residence in Alameda about two months ago and almost immediately took to drinking heavily. His present trouble is the culmination of this drunk.

Dr. Thornburgh's last steady employment in his profession was with the Fer Don Medicine Company, in which he ap-

SONOMA SHERIFF SEEKS EVIDENCE

Hunt in Powell Murder Case Leads Officer to San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Sheriff Smith of Sonoma county, who is endeavoring to weld a chain of evidence around Dr. Lewis Chisholm, suspected of the murder of John D. Powell, and who is holding the widow, Blanche Powell, as a witness, arrived here today in search of further evidence. He will take back with him the typewritten confession of Mrs. Powell, wherein she tells of living with Chisholm, of her lack of affection for Powell and of the drawing up of the insurance papers by the accused doctor. The most important statement contained in the confession is that in which the woman admits the destruction of the insurance policy, an important bit of evidence in the case.

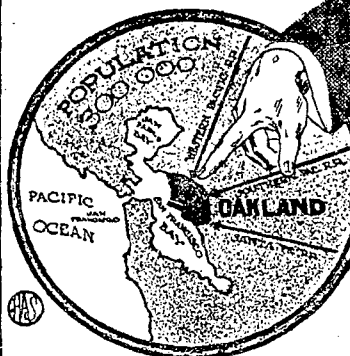

Her explanation of this act, and her refusal to admit an acquaintance with Chisholm when brought face to face with him at the prison, has convinced the police that she knows more than she revealed about all the circumstances of the alleged crime.

Powell, who had been traveling with Chisholm, was found dead in a lonely tent near Fort Ross with two bullet wounds in his head.

He appeared as "speeler" for the vaudeville show that was given. He is said to be a fine surgeon and during his ravings since his arrest he talks about nothing but surgery. Last Tuesday night at the Alameda city prison he declared that he had to perform an autopsy upon the body of a dead boy and asked the jailer for a pillow. A pillow was passed in to him and with a knife he cut it to pieces in no time.

That day is now!

Shortly after his election to the Presidency Theodore Roosevelt visited Oakland. In a letter written in Oakland at that time to a friend in Washington, he said: "Oakland is a city, just across the bay from San Francisco, where one finds the soft air of Italy and the beauty of English villages combined with a spirit of Western Progress and commercial advantages which will give any day, for I am able to judge from my limited investigations, make it the greatest railroad terminal on the Pacific Coast. That time is now."

BESIDES the remarkable investment and ideal home opportunities to be had in bustling, beautiful Oakland, this city, with its perfect public school system, including elementary, grammar and high schools, offers educational advantages second to none. Oakland is also noted for its many colleges—technical, business and professional. Adjoining Oakland is the University of California, the second largest in the United States. OAKLAND CALIFORNIA THE CITY OF OPPORTUNITY

FRANK K. MOTT CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Chicago's Example To Oakland

Chicago has just elected Carter Harrison for its mayor for the fifth time.

When this term ends he will have been mayor for twelve years.

Before Carter Harrison was first elected, his father was mayor of Chicago for ten years.

Under these two mayors Chicago grew to greatness.

It was really one administration of twenty years, for the son proceeded along the same progressive, clean lines that his father had laid out.

Then Chicago made a mistake. She tried an experiment with another mayor. The result was most unsatisfactory and the Windy City took a step backward.

Last Tuesday, Chicago retrieved her error and re-elected Carter Harrison for the fifth time.

Why?

For exactly the same reason that the people of Oakland are today preparing to re-elect Mayor Mott for the fourth time.

This is no time for experiments—no time to repeat Chicago's mistake. Oakland is growing like Chicago and the man with the necessary experience is needed at the helm.

Let Oakland profit by avoiding Chicago's error.

HEART--TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

"WILDWOOD" was the scene of a lovely gathering of smart folk this afternoon, when Mrs. Frank Havens received 200 guests at her new home and entertained them in a novel and delightful manner.

The rooms were profusely decorated in spring blossoms of all shades with flowering fruit branches, palms and ferns. Many beautiful spring gowns were displayed. The principal entertainment of the afternoon was the remarkable dancing of Ruth St. Denis, who has been delighting theater-goers in San Francisco and whose services Mrs. Havens had engaged in order to surprise and entertain her friends. Promptly at 2 o'clock the performance began. An elaborate tea served later in the afternoon closed the afternoon's pleasure.

Sixty of the invited guests, including thirty young persons, and thirty of the local matrons, were asked to remain for an informal dinner, which was served at 7 o'clock.

A group of prominent matrons assisted Mrs. Havens in dispensing hospitality, among them being Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Edward Engle, Mrs. George Sterling, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. John McNear, Mrs. T. E. Bowles, Mrs. William G. Henshaw, Mrs. Maxwell, Miss Alice Grimes, Mrs. Willis T. Kelly, Mrs. Richard Hartington.

The affair, in point of novelty and beauty, excelled anything given in Oakland for a long time and the hostess was congratulated upon the unusual enjoyment which she afforded her guests today.

The printed program was as follows, including the following verse on the first page:

Sweet friends who love the music of the sun!

Oh, once more come and list beneath the trees
And sing with me these tuneful mysteries
Now heard found; but know this first my song
Lest thou do thee and me enduring wrong.
So come with heart to gentle thoughts inclined
Since these are only for the wise and kind.
And of itself our garden shuts its gate
On him that's cold and uncompassionate.
But opens wide its pathway, green and still,
To those of Love and faith and goodwill.

Miss Ruth St. Denis will interpret:
The Spirit of Inebriety.
In the East, inebriety is a symbol of devotion, and this dance is expressive of that thought.
A Yogi (Hindu saint) is one who, through profound meditation and various physical exercises in the heart of a forest, seeks to attain the highest ideal of the Hindu faith—the union of the individual soul with the Universal Spirit.
The Cobra or Snake Chant.
In which Miss St. Denis impersonates both the snake character and the serpent.
The Mystic Dance of the Five Senses.
The idol enshrined is the image of Radha, wife of Krishna, an incarnation of Vishnu. The spirit of Radha enters the image and descending from the shrine she gives her priests in a dance the message of the re-nunciation of the five senses. This message is the teaching of Brahmanism as found in the Bhagavad Gita—that of the gratification of the senses leads to fulfillment and despair.

Mrs. Speaker Clark Resurrects Luxuries

WASHINGTON. — The late David Bremner Henderson, who was elected speaker of the House to succeed Thos. B. Reed, during his tenure of office had a private dining room at the capitol. On the chandelier used he had placed his monogram and a thistle, he being a Scotchman of Scotchmen. On the arrival of Speaker Cannon this fine tableware was packed away, being too fine for Uncle Joe's simple habits, and was not brought out again until Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker-to-be, heard of it. She, being of Scotch descent, resurrected it and will revive the private dining room.

This is considered interesting here, in view of the fact that Mr. Clark has repeatedly cast aside the automobile that has been thrust upon him.

Healthy Row Develops at Court of Austrian Emperor

ARCHDUKE FRANZ SALVATOR and ARCHDUCHESS MARIA VALERIA of Austria, the latter of whom it is said is opposed to the position at court of the wife of Franz Ferdinand.

VIENNA, Austria, April 6.—The Emperor of Austria has three children, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, who is heir to the throne, Archduchess Gisela, who married Prince Leopold, second son of the Prince of Bavaria; and Archduchess Maria Valeria, who married Franz Salvator, Archduke of Austria, Tuscany. When Franz Ferdinand married the Countess Sophie Chotek (now Princess of Hohenburg) he renounced the right of his future children to succeed to the throne.

Recent developments at the court of Austria have revealed much unpleasantness between the wife of Franz Ferdinand and the Archduchess Maria Valeria. This unpleasantness has grown out of disputes over the position at court of the wife of Franz Ferdinand. The archduchess is understood to be in opposition to her. It is said that Franz Ferdinand will refuse to attend the coronation in Great Britain in June and that Austria will be represented by Archduke Carl Franz.

KANSAS CITY.—All the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't make Margaret Lee, in love at indiscreet 16, give up her youthful sweetheart. As for mere juvenile courts and jails and reform schools, and a whole lot of other horrid places—pooh, said pretty Margaret to Judge E. E. Porterfield in the child's court.

"Just go ahead"—this with an emphatic swish of a head of brownish curls—"do what you please. I shall marry when I please, whom I please, where I please."

But that, oh that was only as Margaret had just entered the courtroom. And she had never taken the juvenile court cur for lovelorn girls before. Margaret's parents died when she was 10. They left her some property at Lee's Summit, Mo. But Margaret didn't care to mind her relatives. She didn't want to listen to her guardian. She wouldn't live or work anywhere she couldn't do her own bidding. But she insisted on marrying a young baker of Lee's Summit. Wherefore her guardian, E. S. Bennett, brought the girl into court yesterday.

"Do you know human nature, Judge?" she inquired. "Don't you believe it's natural for a girl to fall in love?"

The little group of courtroom spectators gasped at such a frank discussion of her Laura Jean Libbey emotions.

The judge pondered a moment. Then he replied: "I do know human nature enough to know that you are too stubborn and self-willed to make any home happy. You can't marry until you learn to control yourself."

"All right. Miss Margaret would not marry. Send her to jail, just go ahead and do it," the girl announced to the judge. She might not marry her friend, the baker, right away, but she could never forget him. Never, no. And in the end she would—

"It is the judgment of this court," Margaret Lee be began to the indignant school for girls at Boonville for a term—"the judge sentenced."

"Listen," the girl interrupted, her face brightening. "Listen, judge. I don't believe you know what a fine young man I'm going to marry. Before you finish ruining my life forever, I just want to make one proposition."

"What's that?" the judge asked. "I'll take you around to see him. Then if you don't think he is the best young man in the world for me to marry, then I won't marry at all, ever."

But Judge Porterfield declined to be the judge of her sweet heart's quality or lack of them. He insisted the girl should promise not to marry until she was of age or else go to the reformatory.

"Which shall it be?" he asked as the girl hesitated. Margaret returned to Lee's Summit with her guardian last night.

NEW YORK.—Getting married in secret seems to be a habit with Frank L. Dorsett's daughters. Miss Olive took a husband without informing her parents or anybody else; Edith followed suit, and now Florence has shown that they cannot keep the elopement crown to themselves.

A newspaper dispatch from St. Louis yesterday informed her parents that Florence was the wife of Edward L. Walls, an auto driver. The dispatch added that Walls and his wife had never lived together and that she had sued to annul the marriage. She is in Summerville, S. C.

"I will not believe Florence is married until I hear her say so," said Dorsett yesterday in his home, 1022 Mattison avenue, Asbury Park, N. J. "It can't be so, because Florence is engaged to another man, who is wealthy. He has been courting her for several seasons. We would not be surprised to hear any time that they were married."

Dorsett was confronted with the facts. The records show that Edward L. Walls, who gave his age as 25, and Florence Dorsett, 24, were married in Manassas, N. J., April 13, 1908, by the Rev. Pennington Corson, their pastor of the Manassas Methodist Episcopal church. Louise and Paul Corson, the clergymen's children, were the witnesses. Walls said he was a machinist, living in Pittsburgh. The bride said her father was Frank Dorsett of Asbury Park, and her mother's maiden name was Annie Jenkins.

"You never can tell what young people will do," said Dorsett reflectively, after this record was presented to him. "Florence always said she never would have a partner wedding. She thought it better to go away quietly and be married. I've always thought she influenced my other daughters, Olive and Edith. They both went away quietly and were married."

Edith Dorsett was married in New York May 9, 1909, to Stanford W. Hoffman, a mariner who had been in the service of her brother, Earl Dorsett. The marriage was not announced until the following August. When Edith's parents supposed she was visiting an aunt she was on her honeymoon.

A month afterward Mr. and Mrs. Dorsett were surprised again. This time it was the announcement of Olive's marriage to Ayres E. Booth. On May 28, 1908, they were married in Westfield, N. J., where Olive had been visiting an aunt. She knew nothing of Edith's marriage until it was announced publicly, and she let four weeks pass before she made her own happiness known.

Ayres Booth's marriage caused a ripple of excitement in his own family. Only a short time before his sister Marjorie had eloped with and been married to Charles Woehrer, son of August Woehrer of 13 Main street, Asbury Park.

THE BEAUTIFUL CHATSWORTH HOUSE

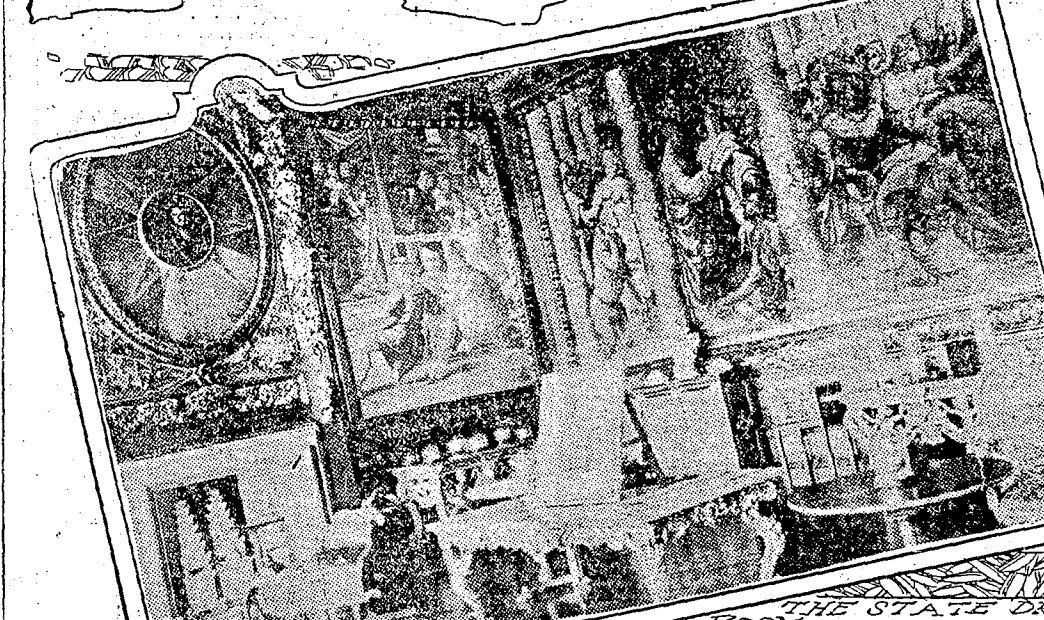

EVERY American and other visitors at the coming coronation in June of King George should see the famous Chatsworth house, the most beautiful country seat in England. It is visited yearly by 5,000 persons who inspect the grounds, the statuary and picture galleries. But unfortunately, those parties which, every day throughout the year except Sundays, wait their turn of admittance have neither time nor opportunity to scrutinize very closely any of the treasures of what is at once a palace and museum. It is one of the principal estates of the Duke of Devonshire.

At his Chatsworth estate he maintained a private theater, devoted to amateur theatricals, and here he often entertained the King and Queen, then the Prince and Princess of Wales.

A leisurely survey is essential for any real acquaintance with the contents, the different departments, of sculpture, paintings, sketches, etc., all deserving to be carefully gone through. It is one of the most historic and interesting places in Great Britain, as one sees it. Chatsworth is the creation of the first Duke of Devonshire, the sixth. Not a trace remains of that house with which Mary Stuart became so familiar, except a turned staircase in the northeast corner, even the two rooms until recently called after her are gone; not that this is matter for any particular regret, considering that, at the time of their absorption, all the contents were a century later than the Scottish queen's day, even to the state bed on which she was supposed to have slept, but which belied the supposition by displaying dual corners on its feet.

But as for the house itself, as it was in George Talbot's day, we are left to a representation of it in a frame of needle-

THE STATE DINING ROOM

Old Astor Mansion Is to Remain a Monument

(By RALPH JOHNSON.)
NEW YORK, March 18.—Let it not be said that New York's multi-millionaires are not moved by other sentiment than the chase of the almighty dollar.

A striking instance of the falsity of this charge has just come to my notice. And New York is to profit by it.

For some little time circumstantial rumors have been current that the old Astor House was to be pulled down and on its site a great office building was to be erected.

The Astors have definitely decided now that the famous old hostelry, one of the most noted landmarks in New York, shall not be torn down but shall be held as a monument to the Astor family.

In coming to this conclusion they make a heavy sacrifice for money for the sake of sentiment. The block on which the Astor House stands, Broadway, between Barclay and Vesey streets, is enormously valuable, and the income from a great skyscraper erected there would be many times greater than that received from the property but the present building will improved somewhat but practically the same old Astor House which for two generations was the heart of New York. Leases have been renewed and the matter is settled.

It is no exaggeration to speak of this famous hotel as having been the heart of New York.

with them and their farm implements and a stubborn wagon. They knew whether they're going, for nearly every one has a friend or relative in the Northwest country. Some have already explored the new land. Others have lived here a few years, and one man, Nicholas Sjaarda, acting as a pilot for his countrymen, has lived in Iowa for eighteen years.

They were comparatively unencumbered with luggage and household possessions, realizing that every article not essential would better be turned into ready money to be invested here in land and improvements. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Sjaarda brought their eleven children and also their son John's wife.

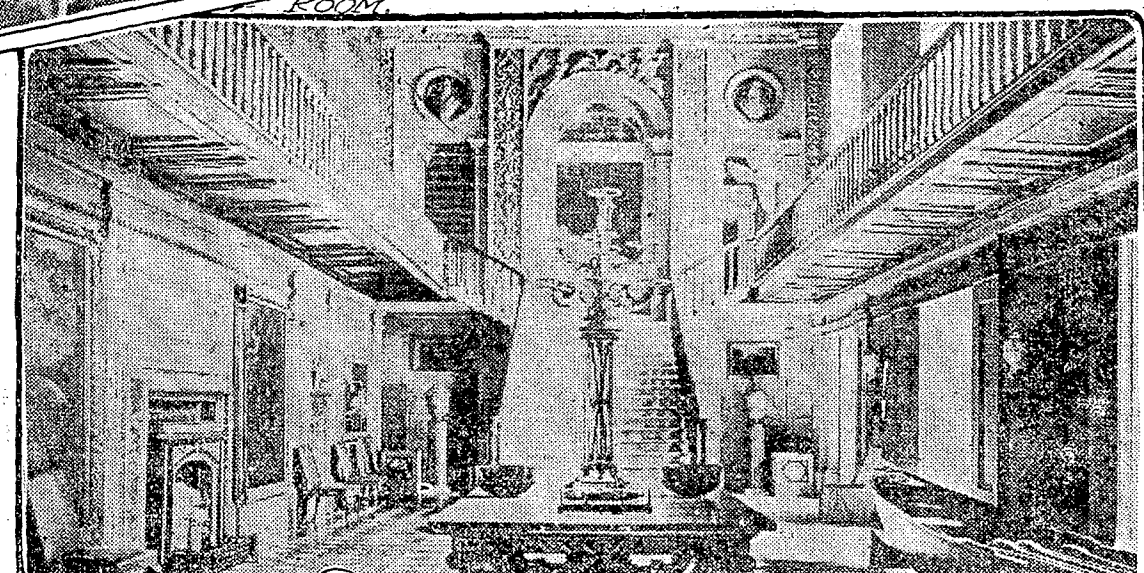

Hendrik Stip and his wife had plenty to do looking after eleven youngsters of all sizes, although the children were as demure as little old men and women. The Stips are going to Hull, Iowa. Then there were the G. J. van der Tops, with nine spinning tops in their section; the Maarten in 'Velds, the Buymans and so on through the vans and dens.

"The rich landowners are driving the farmers to America," said Nicholas Sjaarda. "There is small chance of a farmer becoming a landowner, and a still smaller chance for a laborer, who finds it difficult to become even a lessee. The rich take up all the land and the land is fast becoming a country for the rich and not for the poor. The land is now nearly all in the hands of the rich."

work upstairs. It is almost the only piece of old work to be seen except the cloth of state, hanging from Hanswicht still retaining though restored, enough of the original embroidery to show that the fingers that elaborated it were neither those of the countess nor Mary Stuart, but rather of Christian Bruce.

CHAPEL, UNALTERED.

The least altered part of Chatsworth is the chapel, painted by Verrio and carved by Gibbons. You may notice that Verrio's masterpiece, over the western altar, seems cleverly painted to suit the position. At the head of the main staircase you find a Derbyshire marble doorway, through which are reached two drawing rooms, billiard room, and the chapel gallery, and if entered you should see Canova's "Hebe," and among other large paintings Mary Stuart (Zuccheri), all when the duke and duchess are in the residence and then one would like to stop in the sketch gallery, to examine that extremely valuable series of original sketches than which few things at Chatsworth are more admired; it was brought together entirely by the second duke, and since then has been classified according to the several schools. The sketch gallery is another place no visitor should miss. The lustreless sandstone backing shows off the statuary to great advantage in any light, but the very best time to visit there is about 9 o'clock on a summer morning.

CHILDREN'S HOME.

Chatsworth house is where the Devonshire children spend most of their time, and there they lead simpler lives than most children in their position. They are a healthy, happy lot of youngsters, and occasionally they delight the village folk by giving performances of little plays. Last Christmas they gave a dramatized version of Jean Ingelow's "A Lost Wand."

Among the most famous gardens in England are those at Chatsworth. The great palace-like mansion looks out over elaborate gardens. The walls of this maze are ancient and closely clipped evergreen hedges, and one should not venture within its puzzling paths without a friendly gardener at hand to show him the way out again.

The gardens of England are at once the inspiration and the despair of Americans who have been for the last few years trying out and embellishing grounds about their country homes; for in our land there are but few pleasure grounds dating back more than one hundred years. Still in England most of the gardens of the great country seats were planned out hundreds of years ago and in many cases have been developed steadily since then. An American visiting one of these private parks once said to the gardener:

"How is it that you have such beautiful lawns? I have done everything for my lawn at home, but it cannot compare with this."

And the gardener touched his cap and said:

"Well, sir, you see it's this way: We roll them and clip them, and roll them for four hundred years."

Clever Work by Women

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Upon Mrs. Wm. A. Leonard, of the Treasury Department, falls the bulk of the work of detecting counterfeit money. As the original Sherlock Holmes of the "queer" she has brought destruction to clever counterfeiters to the extent of thousands of dollars. For over forty years she has been considered an expert in her unusual occupation. She is specializing on the detection of counterfeit notes. She has counted more money than would pay off several national debts. In a single day she has counted over $12,000,000. Sixteen thousand notes is regarded as a good day's work, but Mrs. Leonard has handled as high as 22,000. The imitation is detected from the real by its "feel," its coloring, size, engraving work, and especially the vignette portrait. Mrs. Leonard believes that a perfectly engraved counterfeit note has never been produced.

Another remarkable woman doing an unusual work for Uncle Sam is Mrs. Patti Lyle Collins, of the dead letter division of the Postoffice Department. For many years she has deciphered at most illegible addresses on mail matter that had defied the postmasters. Though not blind herself, she is known as the "blind reader" because of her remarkable ability in deciphering illegible addresses in English and other languages.

MAKES BUG MODELS.

In the Agricultural Department is a woman, Mrs. Mica Zesta Heldmann, who makes models of the various bugs that prey upon grain, trees and farm produce in order that students of agriculture may receive practical demonstration in fighting them. The models, greatly enlarged, of course, are of insects with exquisitely colored slits and gauze wings, caterpillars, moths, the cotton boll weevil, the corn root worm, etc., etc. In her work, Mrs. Heldmann utilizes wire, thread, wax, celluloid, papier-mache, rubber and special kinds of gauze, made by herself, as well as composite materials derived from the manufacture of which she carefully guards.

One of the queerest of occupations is that of a Richmond Va. woman who for fifteen years has been chaperoning "Cupid" between that city and Washington. Twice a year this woman organizes these excursions by rail in a special train to the capital city.

There are at least a half dozen couples who want their matrimonial knot tied in the shadow of the Capitol's dome; hence the sobriquet.

Sod for a lawn of a vivid green color and with a turf as thick and close as velvet, will yield a profit from $300 to $400 an acre, according to a woman near a large Middle Western city, who has twelve acres of land under cultivation for this purpose. Each acre can be harvested only once every three years, so she is not making a fortune at her unique task. She is, however, making a comfortable living out of it.

WOMEN WITH IDEAS.

Another woman living near Pittsburg earns her daily bread by raising Persian cats and selling them for from $25 to $500 each. She has become an expert in breeding animals of class, and frequently makes large sales to wealthy cat fanciers. Still another woman, the wife of a Pennsylvania farmer, clears on the average $500 a year by raising pigeons.

Women policemen are becoming really quite commonplace. Tidewater, Penn., slaps a fair deputy sheriff, who is a graduate of a well known Southern college for women. Los Angeles is said to have had the first policewoman ever appointed in this country, and Long Beach has a woman deputy in the same State, has a Wellesley graduate, a daughter of a millionaire, on its force.

CORSETS GOING OUT OF STYLE

WASHINGTON.—Dealers in corsets are not pleased with the latest fad of the Washington set. On excellent authority it is said to be strictly swaggar nowadays a woman must discard the engirdling stays—thing not possible with the present style of empire girdled frock.

The younger set, promoted the "back to nature" idea. There have been many smart dances this winter, and one after another the young women have cast aside the artificial forms.

The first girl to appear at a dance uncensored created a mild sensation. But so much of a mild innovation that she was soon followed by a host of others.

The older folks didn't like it so well, being of the opinion that the girls were going back to nature with a vengeance, and the criticism stirred up even drowsy the common cause by Justice Harlan's overhauling of the swaggar set for its disregard of proper Sabbath observance.

It is different elsewhere, and not to be done by the younger circle a number of smart towns, where the girls are into their costumes.

Mrs. Huntington Wilson attracted much attention by adopting the slipper dress, which follows the lines of her slippish figure, are unlined and weighted by a fall of crystal and gold.

After her dress with a certain simplicity—the whole ensemble accented perfectly with the satin shod feet, girdles of the erstwhile popular Cuban heel.

GARTER AD OFFENDS CO-EDS

CHICAGO, March 25.—Is the printing of a cigarette advertisement in the Daily Northwestern demoralizing to male students of the university?

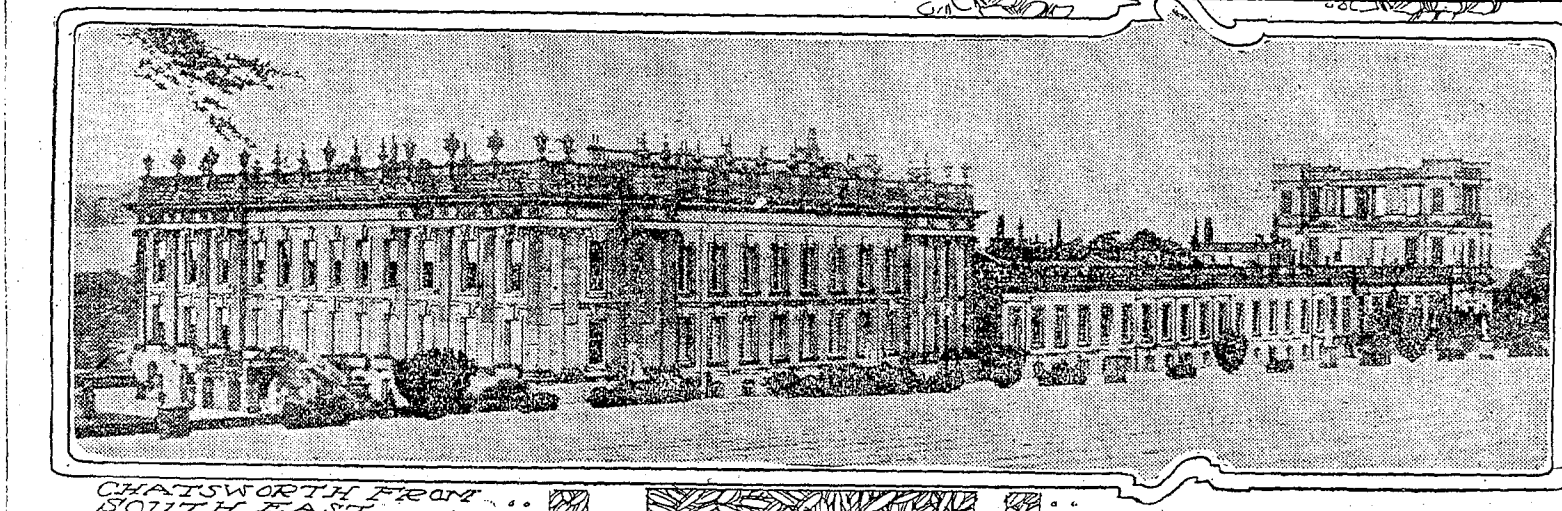

If so, is the printing of a picture of a man's bare leg incurred in a patented garter equally demoralizing to the girl students?

Yes, is the emphatic answer to this latter question by 260 signers of a petition recently circulated. Both questions are being discussed by the student body of Northwestern University at Evanston.

The removal of the cigarette advertisement meant $150 less income to the Daily Northwestern. Business Manager Haviland said the paper could not be printed unless the $150 was taken in.

The second petition was signed by 260 girls.

Strange Things the Census Reveals

AS A PART of the task of compiling the Thirteenth census of the United States the bureau at Washington will publish a report on the various occupations by which men and women in this country earn their daily bread. Though it will be many months before this report will be given to the public, a conservative estimate places the number of classifications of industry at between seven and eight thousand. In compiling the list "black bottom" is the ingenuity in every case. While a carpenter is a carpenter, for instance, he may be employed in any one of the numerous branches of carpentry, and according to his branch he is to be classified.

The census of 1900 showed only a little more than three hundred divisions of labor, having been compiled without the delicate distinction now being made. Under this new system of tabulation many of the heads of classification will include but a few individuals and some only a single person. It will bring to light not a few queer ways of earning one's livelihood now existing. And many of them will be found so unusual as to stand in a class by themselves.

LIVING IN BOTTLED SMOKE.

It seems a safe prediction, for example, to state that there will be found only one man in the entire country making a living from bottling the smoke of burning hickory wood. This man, who lives in Kansas City, has a vat of hickory smoke, let loose in an air-tight compartment in which meat has been placed, will produce the same effect upon the meat as though cured by hickory smoke in the usual manner.

The compilation of such a volume is an enormous and tedious task. The work is being done under the direction of William C. Hunt, chief statistician of the division of population. He has held that position for many years, having been in charge of similar work during the tabulation of four census returns. The more commonplace occupations, including one-half of the total, have already been "punched" by the clerks on the card index for general facts concerning population.

But the unusual occupations to be listed require special classification and are now being prepared by a trained corps of 60 clerks. Special machinery and tabulating blanks are necessary, with abbreviations and space for the entry of an unusual number of facts concerning the individual and his occupation. As with most of the other work in the census bureau, the record is made by electric and hand punching machines. Not every one of these are one and all engaged in legitimate occupations connected with the very necessary industry of manufacturing shoes. Nor would the uninitiated expect to find profit in raising "Kane" in his various departments of government. There is a young man in the National Museum—Henry Hendley—who is known as the official portrait-maker of Indian features for the unique portrait gallery of the North American red skin. The government is interested in the preservation of types of the pure American Indian and in the changes in their facial characteristics step by step as they adopt civilized customs. During the course of a year many Indians come to Washington to see the President or the commissioner of Indian affairs. If so persuaded, they appear before Mr. Hendley.

DESTROYER OF MEN.

In some of the reports of the census enumerators in the field are found tabulations so unusual that they require no end of labor in properly classifying them at the bureau. One man frankly asserted that he was a "boozie fighter," and another who works in a saloon, styled himself a "destroyer of men." "Boozie" is applied to certain individuals in the printing business who always try to secure the easiest part of the work connected with their trade. "Boozie" is given as the occupation of an individual who breaks the hind legs of animals killed in packing houses.

Such occupations as "pouncer," in a hat factory; "tolie," a maker of stogies; "whittier," in a straw works; "dock walloper," a longshoreman; "viator," in a clock factory; "tonger," in connection with cysters; "leaser," in a glass factory; "scabbler," in quarrying; "flosser," in a corset factory, and "dubber," in shipbuilding, are all unusual occupations that must be listed.

In the national capital especially are there a large number of people who earn their living by performing unusual tasks.

The majority of them are employed by "Uncle Sam" in his various departments of government. There is a young man in the National Museum—Henry Hendley—who is known as the official portrait-maker of Indian features for the unique portrait gallery of the North American red skin. The government is interested in the preservation of types of the pure American Indian and in the changes in their facial characteristics step by step as they adopt civilized customs. During the course of a year many Indians come to Washington to see the President or the commissioner of Indian affairs. If so persuaded, they appear before Mr. Hendley.

To secure a lifelike bust for the gallery Hendley has to make a plaster cast of each Indian's face and head. Not every gentle Kiawatha will stand for the process, for he must allow his face to be completely covered with plaster, all except his nostrils, into which quills are inserted, that he may breathe. Then he must sit patiently until the plaster has hardened sufficiently to permit its removal in sections. In the same manner an impression is obtained of the back of his head, his hair being covered with a preparation that prevents its adherence to the plaster. The cast of his features is then complete in sections. For his services Poor Lo generally receives one dollar.

T. B. Miller is an expert modeller in papier mache of things past, present and future for the National Museum. In moving the exhibits of curios and specimens from the old to the new building the authorities of the museum are hard pressed for space. They are solving the problem by combining the exhibits wherever feasible. Instead of a separate room for an Indian meeting house, spears and bow, for example, all are being combined into one model of an Indian village. It is in such work that Mr. Miller is engaged. Every figure, every building, every rock or every blade of grass must be historically authentic, and their coloring, marks and symbols must be beyond question by even the most learned of the professors at the museum.

Gambling Wide Open; Women Sit at Tables

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—The gambling lid was clamped here, all clubrooms being dark. The action is in view of the Grand Jury sitting next week. Startling disclosures are expected then, since it has been predicted that the wide scope given the clubs recently was merely for accumulating evidence, which detectives from the Prosecuting Attorney's office have collected. Hundreds of indictments are expected will result.

So open has gambling been recently that the clubs have been frequented by hundreds of women from the hotels on sight-seeing trips. Many of the women took a chance at the games.

Protecting the World's Wild Birds

To meet the onslaught of vast commercial interests that have begun a fierce fight to break down bird protective laws in many legislatures throughout the country a call for the support of every American woman farmer and business man who must depend upon agricultural prosperity has been issued from the headquarters of the National Association of Audubon Societies in this city. While rich millinery and market firms are known to be working desperately to make in this state the first breach in the wall of legal protection that has only recently been flung about its bird life, leaders in the granges, civic organizations and women's clubs in every section are offering their help to raise the people to defeat the schemes of the commercial bird butchers. If the interests succeed in killing the state's safeguards on bird life, their powerful raids will next directed at the laws that protect game and insect eating wild birds in California, Massachusetts, Oregon, Louisiana, Missouri and other states, it is declared.

As a basis for the battle of the people against the commercial forces that would fatten on the relics of American bird life, the Audubon workers are offering their national organization, which can count on thirteen hundred active members, scattered through thirty-nine states of the Union. Each of these men and women is being urged to rally the people of his or her community to protect against the destruction of state bird protective laws that is being cunningly pressed by agents of the millinery and market combinations. Leaders in the national scientific, ornithological and zoological organizations, as well as the National Federation of Women's Clubs, have been pledged to co-operate in this urgent appeal to the people.

Legislation to revive spring shooting and kill game storage laws for the selfish ends of the game butcher has already been introduced in this state. The milliners are now backing a bill which will nullify the effect of the law protecting insect eating birds that the Audubon association helped to put on the statute books after years of successful opposition from the powerful millinery forces. Special funds are being raised at Audubon headquarters here by individual contributions to enable expert ornithologists to go to Albany and point out the danger to the nation's crops and game resources in such measures.

"Years of effort and accomplishment toward legally guarding the birds that save our crops from destruction by insect pests as well as are waning game flocks will be wasted if the milliners and market men win even one victory in this crucial contest," said T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies at its headquarters, No. 141 Broadway. "We know that other state legislatures are watching the efforts of the commercial interests to overthrow bird protective laws in the Empire State and that if they succeed the effect will be to break down all barriers against the forces that are constantly plotting to destroy American bird life for their own gain. In this critical time we can only count upon the moral and financial support of every man, woman and child in this country who would be benefited by the perpetuation of our economically valuable bird resources."

AFTER NORTHWEST.

The Dutch are not taking Holland this time, but the great Northwest. Every steamer of the Holland-America line arriving from Rotterdam is being from 300 to 500 Dutch tourists—sturdy, weather-browned men with wives and children dressed in quaint Dutch costume—for North Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin.

The Noordam recently brought 350 of these thrifty peasants and yeoman of the Netherlands. Most of its second-cabin passengers were of this class.

Their coming marks the beginning of an exodus of 8,000 farmers from Holland, who say they have been forced to leave their fatherland because of the extortions of rich landowners.

The families on the Noordam were happy lot. There was no sign of sickness among them. The men average about $1000 in ready money. Some brought their household goods

Governor Johnson also signed Senator Black's building and loan bureau bill, the one which provides for "but one building and loan commissioner instead of two, as at present, and which has the effect of throwing Jake Transue and Charles Curry, two of former Governor Gillett's eleventh-hour appointees, out of office.

EXCESS BAGGAGE.
Still another of the bills signed was Assembly bill 198 by Beatty, which is of particular interest to druggists and salaried men. The act is entitled: "An act concerning baggage and excess baggage carried by common carriers," and contains this provision:

The effect of this provision will be to provide the traveling man a means of reimbursement in event any of their luggage is damaged or lost while in transit.
Senate bill 1233, Beban, which provides for the organization, control and equipment of high school cadet companies.
Senate bill 1252, Campbell, appropriating $100 to pay the claim of C. A. Palmer against the state.

My Corns Don't Hurt a Bit

Tired, Ailing, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet, Corns, Callouses and Bunions, TIZ Cures Right Off

Say good-bye to your corns the very first time you use TIZ. You will never know you have corns or bunions or callous, or sweaty, tired, swollen, aching feet any more. It's just wonderful the way the pain vanishes. Rub the corn-killer with your finger if you wish—no more pain after TIZ than if there had never been a blemish on your feet. Doesn't that sound good to you? Doesn't it? Then read this:

"The corns on either of my toes were as large as the tablets I used to take to cure them. Today there is no sign of corns on either foot and no soreness. It's a text-to-date cure!"—Sam A. Hoover, Progress, N. C.

Just use TIZ. It's not like anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisons from the corns and cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. HAYDEN HELD FOR NORGARD KILLING

Trinity County Is Torn by Trial; Self Defense Plea Is Dropped.

WEAVERVILLE, April 6.—The preliminary hearing of Thomas P. Hayden, accused of the murder of Morris H. Norgard at Long Ridge, ended when Justice of the Peace Barker held the defendant to answer before the Superior Court on a charge of murder. The hearing lasted three days, attended at all times by cat-damen and lawyers, friends of the Hayden and Norgard families, which have borne enmity in the grass county of Trinity county for many years.

District Attorney H. R. Glens and Special Prosecutor Henry N. Rogan of San Francisco conducted the prosecution. When the evidence was all in, attorneys Sam Hall and W. S. White, representing Hayden, moved to dismiss the charges they had subpoenaed from all parts of the county without examination. The attorneys had intended to establish a case of self-defense at the preliminary hearing, but counsel agreed to a district attorney's trial before the Superior Court in May. Superior Judge Bartlett will conduct the trial.

An effort will be made to have the defendant admitted to bail pending the trial and it will probably not be resisted by the prosecution. The discretion of the court to admit a man accused of murder to bail is not usually invoked and is seldom agreed to by a district attorney, but the cattle country has a liberal practice, which is rarely imposed upon by defendants accused even of capital crime. The heavily armed friends of the Norgard and Hayden families have mounted their cow ponies and are returning to the grass country to supervise the spring feeding.

JAPAN DOES NOT GET COALING PORT

Magdalena Bay Land Sold for $15,000,000, But Not to Nipponese.

TACOMA, April 6.—Land at Magdalena bay in Lower California, which the Japanese government desired for a coaling station and which played an important part in the movement of United States troops to the border, has been sold for $15,000,000, but not to Japan, according to former Governor E. F. Sawyer of Nebraska, who is now a resident of Tacoma and a member of the syndicate which owns the land.

Sawyer admitted that representatives of the Japanese government had approached him and other members of the syndicate with attractive offers, but they had declined to enter into negotiations because of the threat of a Japanese boycott. The syndicate has practically closed a deal for the tract and Sawyer expects to be called south any day to close the deal. The land is known as the Flores-Hale estate, comprising a tract twenty-eight miles wide and 450 miles long.

In speaking of the transaction last night Sawyer said: "Yes, it is true that our syndicate is negotiating the sale of its holdings on Magdalena bay, but we are not going to sell it to Japan for a coaling station. While I was in the south a few months ago I was approached, as was my associate, Mr. J. E. Blackman of New York, by men who claimed to be representatives of Japan, asking us our price on the land. I told them at once that we could not consider their proposition, but that they were willing to pay, on account of the Monroe doctrine."

SEATTLE, April 6.—The Denny-Renton Clay and Coal Company of Seattle has purchased the controlling interest in the Western Clay Manufacturing Company of Portland. The consideration was close to $1,000,000. The Western Clay Manufacturing Company is the largest concern of its kind in Oregon. Its principal plant is near Portland and it has smaller plants in other parts of the state. The Denny-Renton Clay and Coal Company has large plants in and near Seattle and is the largest manufacturer of clay products in the Pacific Northwest.

EXPLOSION AND FIRE ON ISLAND

Shock Shatters Glass in Nanaimo and Flames Light Up the Harbor.

VICTORIA, B. C., April 6.—The power magazine on Protection Island, Nanaimo, exploded at midnight. Two distinct shocks shook Nanaimo, shattering plate-glass windows and causing the citizens to fear that the Protection mine had blown up. The flames lit up the harbor and city. The first explosion was of dynamite and the second of a store of gasoline.

John Jones, night engineer, discovered the fire at the magazine and went to the telephone to notify the enter engineer. He was returning when the explosion occurred, and was thrown forty feet. He sustained injuries which will probably result fatally.

OLD-TIME RIVER ROUTE WILL AGAIN BE USED

GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 6.—A packet company, with headquarters at Bismarck, N. D., announced yesterday that this season it will start regular steamboat service on the Upper Missouri between Fort Benton and Bismarck. Before the day of railroads there was much traffic up the Missouri to Fort Benton, from St. Louis and other down-river points, but for the past twenty years there has been none of it. Settlement along the river has made a reversion of the service practicable.

ALASKAN RAILROAD BEGINS RATE WAR

White Pass and Yukon Withdraw Agreement With Other Companies.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 6.—Officials of the Alaskan Steamship Company, the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Company were notified today by the White Pass and Yukon Railroad that all through rates between Puget Sound and British Columbia points and points on the lines of the White Pass and Yukon in Alaska and the Yukon territory have been withdrawn. Discrimination in rates made by the steamship companies is given as the reason for the railroad's action. As a result of the withdrawal of the through rate passengers bound for interior points via the White Pass route may buy new tickets at Skagway and all freight must be rebilled.

The White Pass and Yukon, a Canadian corporation, connects Skagway, Alaska, at Tidewater, with the headwaters of the Yukon river in the Canadian Yukon and as a short but important link in the water route through the interior of the Yukon territory and Alaska.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6.—The annual convention of the Inter-Mountain Photographers' Association began here yesterday. Artists from Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada and Utah to the number of one hundred are attending. Officers are to be elected and a world's prize for photographic work awarded on Friday.

FEARS EFFECT OF NEW JAPANESE AGREEMENT

REDWOOD CITY, April 6.—For the last month the Frank Tanning Company of this city, one of the largest leather finishing concerns in the state, has been working day and night with a full force and straining its output to the highest point. The reason given is that Japan will enact a prohibitive tariff on leather products on July 1. The Frank Tanning Company furnishes the largest supply of leather goods to the Orient of any coast firm.

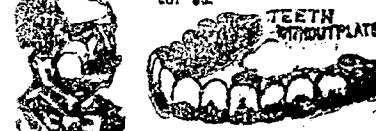

SIX ARE KILLED WHEN PRISONERS MAKE BREAK

PUEBLA, Mexico, April 6.—Five prisoners and one guard are dead as a result of a break for liberty by the occupants of the state penitentiary here. Twenty-two convicts escaped. The prisoners overpowered the chief of the guard, who offered resistance and was killed. A sergeant of the guard was mortally wounded. Two soldiers fled with the prisoners, and are thought to have aided in the escape.

POLICE UNLUCKY AT GREEN CLOTH

Evidence Gathering in Gambling Halls Proves Expensive to Gotham.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Members of the New York police department are invariably the most unlucky sort of gamblers, or at least they seem to be when they are spending city money in an attempt to get evidence against games of chance. That is the evidence of their expense bills, according to Comptroller Pendergast. In a report commenting on the vouchers of this character, which he has been asked to certify, the comptroller says:

"I note that many of the expenditures made in gathering evidence against alleged gambling houses are variable in amount and uncertain in character. I refer especially to the items for drinks, cigars, bets and similar things. I realize that it may be necessary for the police to incur expenses such as these in the prosecution of vice and crime, but out of some fifty plain-clothesmen who turned in expense bills for collecting evidence against gambling houses, only three or four acknowledged in their accounts that they had ever won a cent."

"One man lost $25 on craps, $12 on the races and $10 on roulette in a single day."

FIGHT DISEASE WITH FRESH AIR

Sixty-five Out-of-Door Schools Established in the United States.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Sixty-five open-air schools for children afflicted with or predisposed to tuberculosis have been established in twenty-eight cities since January 1, 1905. Announcement to this effect was made today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The first open-air school in the United States was established in Providence, R. I., on January 1, 1907. Eight schools have thus far in 1911 been opened in six cities and definite provisions for twenty-seven more in six cities is assured. New York now has two schools and fourteen classes additional will be opened next fall.

The association believes there should be an school for every 25,000 of population. Its reports show that the result of open-air classes in a majority of cases has been to restore the pupils to normal health and efficiency.

HEAVY RAIN THREATENS

DAMAGE IN STOCKTON

STOCKTON, April 6.—A near-cloud-burst late yesterday came near causing much damage to property in this city. In four minutes almost a quarter of an inch of rain fell, according to a government gauge. It was the heaviest downpour ever recorded here, and had it lasted much longer cellars would have been flooded and buildings damaged by the surplus water. In many places the water ran over the sidewalks and wet some property, and people could not cross the streets until the sewers had had time to drain the business section.

The fall in the county may have caused some damage to early fruits, as possibly the crop was damaged, but it will take several days yet to determine the exact extent of the injury. The benefits to grain and late fruits will be almost an inch of rain has fallen up to 8 o'clock tonight, with the indications good for more before morning.

$7000 LOSS IN TAYLOR CO. FIRE

Six Horses and Two Automobiles Burned by Explosion of Gasoline.

The James Taylor company's undertaking parlors at Fifteenth and Clay streets were damaged by fire last evening to the extent of about $7000, which included the death of six horses, the destruction of two automobiles and loss to building and contents.

The cause of the fire was the mysterious explosion of a tank of gasoline in the stable, which forms part of the building. It was heard by Taylor and several of his employees, who were in the front office, but before they could ascertain the cause and send in an alarm the stable was a mass of flames. One horse escaped, but the other six were suffocated by smoke in their stalls.

The fire department found considerable difficulty in extinguishing the flames, because of the stucco work covering the walls. The automobiles stood close to the gasoline tank and were soon destroyed. They were valued at about $2000 apiece, the horses at $1000 and the loss to the building is estimated at $2000.

'SOMETHING DRIVES ME,' DECLARES BOY

Youthful Prisoner Confesses Crime, But Blames His Other Self.

SAN JOSE, April 6.—Robert Nicholls, aged 11 years, who has systematically fed poison to his foster mother, Mrs. Mary Razus of Los Gatos, since January, talks to reporters, evolving an unusual theory as to the cause of his desire to kill and steal, and also found ways to explain away his guilt.

"Why did you do those things?" a reporter asked him.

"Well," he replied, "I can't help it. Something drives me—something that takes right hold of my mind and is stronger than me."

He told a reporter that his own mother had treated him badly before his adoption and that he was given frequent beatings, one of which fractured his skull slightly and left an indentation in the back of his head. To this he attributes his mania for stealing and killing.

He has long had a penchant for taking German dictionaries, although he does not understand a word of German, and has pilfered books and other things from many Los Gatos business people.

He told of first poisoning the Razus dogs several months ago. Then, in January, he began giving rat poison to Mrs. Mary and John Razus. Razus once threw away a glass of water containing the poison, complaining that it was dirty, and after that the boy did not offer it to him again. He had taken one dose, and it nearly cost him his life.

LESSORS FILE SUIT FOR

SHARE OF OIL OUTPUT

BAKERSFIELD, April 6.—J. M. Dunn, Parker Barrett, Julius Fried and A. J. Hodgkinson, as lessors of the Lakeview gusher property to the Lakeview Oil Company, have filed suit against the latter, alleging mismanagement, asking for a receivership and that a judgment for their share of the oil, estimated to be worth $400,000, and $100,000 damages be granted. Dunn and his associates estimate that the gusher, now making 5000 barrels daily, has produced 8,000,000 barrels since it came in on March 5, 1910. They want one-sixth of the total production, which, at 33 cents a barrel, the prevailing price of oil, entitles them to nearly $600,000.
